DISTRICT ENGINEER INSPECTS DRY DOCK

J. P. Forde Not Yet Informed of Action Toward Providing Fishermen's Floats Here

J. P. Forde of Victoria, district engineer for the federal department of public works, is here to make his annual inspection of the local dry dock.

Mr. Forde had no comment to make upon rumors that the dry dock is to be closed and that the marine station is to be moved from Digby Island to the dry dock. Neither matters came under his jurisdiction, he said.

Mr. Forde said he had not been advised as to any steps being made to put in the fishermen's floats here. If they were to be provided for, it would probably be in the supplementary estimates, he said.

ANOTHER RUMOR IN REGARD TO MURDER DENIED BY POLICE

Included in the various rumors pertaining to the Esther Killas murder that have been circulating today was one that a man had been taken off the steamer Catala by police officers from Ocean Falls on suspicion in connection with the affair. This was denied at the police station where it was stated that there had been no new developments in the case.

The steamer Catala left here the afternoon of the crime for the south and the police are understood to have had the vessel thoroughly checked up for suspects while enroute to Vancouver.

Dyspepsia Troubled Him for Many Years

Mr. J. Savoy, Loggieville, N.B., writes:—"I have suffered for many years from dyspepsia and could not seem to get any relief.

"One day I told my wife I thought I would try a bottle of

and when I had half of it taken I felt a lot better, so I continued until I had taken two bottles, and now have no pains and no coated tongue, and feel that I am completely rid of my trouble."

YOGEN MARU IS HERE FOR GRAIN

APANESE VESSEL, WHICH WILL LOAD PART CARGO FOR ORIENT, IS NEARLY LINED

The Japanese freighter Yogen Maru, Prince Rupert's twenty-sixth grain ship of the season, arrived in the harbor at 8:30 last night, tying up later at the ocean dock where lining will be completed preparatory to taking up berth at the elevator where a part cargo of grain will be loaded before proceeding to Vancouver to complete with logs. Capt. T. Kondo, master of the Yogen Maru, reports an uneventful voyage under favorable weather conditions from Muroran, Japan, which port the vessel left on April 1. The Yogen Maru was here last season for grain.

Both the Yogen Maru and the Indian City were tied up at the ocean dock this morning completing lining.

The Yogen Maru, it is expected, will move down to the elevator tomorrow to start loading. The Indian City will probably be ready to go on berth on Monday.

During the past twenty-four hours, 24 carloads of grain have arrived from the prairies for the elevator.

WAS MISTAKEN FOR MURDERER

WRECKED FISHERMAN NEARLY PLAYED UNPLEASANT ROLE IN POLICE SEARCH YESTERDAY

Al Johnson, the Ketchikan troller, who arrived in the city after his boat had been run down and damaged by the steamer Prince George, nearly figured in an unpleasant role in connection with the Esther Killas murder case yesterday afternoon. Johnson, whose hand was rather badly cut and his face gashed in the accident, had occasion to call upon the United States consul. As he passed up Fulton Street toward the cinder trail up the hillside he was seen by a citizen who excitedly informed the police that here might be the man they were looking for. Sergeant Hannah despatched two officers on the trail but, in the meantime Johnson's identity had been made properly known and he was allowed to proceed on his way without interruption.

The vessel, which is in command of Capt John McKernan and is unloading at the lumber assembly wharf, will be here for a couple of days.

EDMONTON WORRYING OVER ITS CENOTAPH

Newspaper Asks for Plebiscite to Determine What Form It Shall Take

(Edmonton Bulletin)

The proposal to submit a bylaw for $15,000 to help meet the cost of placing a cenotaph in one of the public streets is one of which few people will feel like offering criticism. To do so would seem to show a lack of proper regard for the memory of the men who gave all that they had to give in the service of their country; and nowhere in Canada is that regard more general or more sincere than in Edmonton.

But is it quite safe to assume that a cenotaph is the kind of memorial that citizens generally would have erected in a busy thoroughfare? In a cemetery or a park nothing could be more appropriate. But a tomb does seem to be somewhat out of place in a street. Would it, in such a location, express the thought which Edmonton people want to associate with the service and sacrifice of their townsmen who went "over there"? Is it the thought they want to impress upon their children; that the path of duty in the hour of national danger leads but to a tomb?

Why not accompany the bylaw with a plebiscite; allowing the taxpayer to say whether he prefers a cenotaph or some other form of monument which would signify what the Edmonton men stood for and achieved in the time of crisis? Or—if it is a cenotaph or nothing—allowing the taxpayer to say whether he prefers that this be placed in a street or in one of the city parks?
