YOU know how you douse your dainty lingerie up and down in a bowl of sudsy water . . that's the way your clothes are washed in a modern laundry. They are not rubbed or scrubbed but are gently swished back and forth in warm filtered rainsoft water until the pure soap actually foams. Every particle of dirt is loosened without unduly lessening the tensile strength of the fabric.. Then come many rinses of rainsoft water so that your laundry washed clothes not only look and feel clean but are scientifically clean.

NEW MAN NOW IN CHARGE OF FIRST BATTLE SQUADRON OF THE MEDITERRANEAN FLEET IS ADMIRAL KERR

LONDON, April 18. - Rear-Admiral William Munro Kerr, who succeeded Rear-Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard in the first battle squadron, Mediterranean fleet, following the trouble on H.M.S. Royal Oak at Malta between Rear-Admiral Collard and Captain Kenneth G. B. Dewar and Commander H. M. Daniel over a dance and other matters with the result that the rear-admiral was ordered to lower his flag, relieved of his command and later retired, is 52 years of age. This is his first command afloat since his promotion to flag rank in Janluary, 1927. He entered the navy in 1890. In 1913 he was navigating officer of the King George V., and in 1916 served in the Operations Division of the Admiralty naval staff.

During the latter part of the war Rear-Admiral Kerr commanded the cruiser Caradoc and for a short time in 1919 acted as British Consul-General at Odessa. He held the post of Captain of the Dockyard and King's Harbor Master at Rosyth during 1921-1923, and became Senior Officer, Reserve Fleet the Nore, in February, 1924.

His last command before reaching flag rank was the aircraft carrier Eagle, Mediterranean Fleet, April 1925 to October 1926. For six months before his promotion to Rear-Admiral on January 24. 1927, he was aide-de-camp to the
