WHEAT IS STARTING TO MOVE THIS WAY AGAIN

Congestion at Elevator Relieved to Some Extent by Loading of Ship

Local congestion having been relieved as a result of the loading out of a large cargo on the steamer Rossington Court, grain is starting to move again from the prairies to the Alberta Wheat ALBERTA HARD SMOKELESS Pool's Prince Rupert elevator. Rupert. There's too much interference.

Just one more round of festivities and then the civic election. There's always something to drive a man crazy.

The editor says loneliness drives some people crazy. It's trying to hear a tune on the radio when the local interference is jazzing that drives me crazy. An antique is an article of furniture that somebody has discarded because it was too old fashioned.

There seems to be a shortage of great men today. People do not seem to know me. Those who forgot about sending those cards at Christmas are reminded that there is still New Year's. A man has a right to control his wife, says a judge. So he has a right to order the tides or harness the winds.

A lot of people are important but they really do not look it.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

December 28, 1918 The death occured last evening in the Prince Rupert Gen-Hospital of Nicholas Janes, well known citizen and partner of T. Businich in the Third Avenue Cash Meat Market. He was 57 years of age.

There was a large crowd at the Baptist Church Sunday School Christmas Tree last night. W. Vaughan Davies presided at the organ.

Sir Henry Pellett's new 40,-000 foot sawmill at Remo is expected to start cutting lumber early next year.
