GILLIS ROYER RETURNS HOME

Local Man Back After Attending Moose Convention in Cardiff Wales

After a three months' trip to Europe for the purpose of attending the recent international convention of the Loyal Order of Moose in Cardiff, Wales, Gillis Royer returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's train. He also visited London and Paris as well as other cities in Great Britain and on the Continent. On the way home he stopped off to visit his childhood home near the city of Quebec.

Business conditions seem quiet, Mr. Royer states, in Great Britain particularly in Wales on account of so many of the coal mines being closed down. Brief time gave him the opportunity to gain but a superficial impression of general conditions in Europe.

Mr. Royer left Prince Rupert on July 1.

Jake says if you want to know, just ask the mayor of Seal Cove.

A gold fish is sometimes mistaken for a rich sardine, but a person with flashy gold teeth is never mistaken for a millionaire.

Talk is cheap. There's an election on in the States.

Silence is golden but it's difficult to raise money on it at a pawn shop.

An opera house and a theatre
Once vied for patronage;
Both of them showed good pictures
And a rather empty stage.

Winter'll be here, so get in touch with the coal man or you'll freeze.

The snow is falling in the north
And winter soon is coming
And colder it will get while here
Coal business will be humming.
