SWIFT PROGRESS MADE POSSIBLE BY AIR SURVEYS

Great Areas of New Country Mapped and Chartered Quickly With Aid of Plane

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—To survey an area equal to Switzerland, the Netherlands and Denmark combined in one year would seem an impossibility—at least by ordinary methods it would require an army of surveyors. Yet slightly more than this amount of terrain was covered by aerial surveys in Canada in 1927, according to the report of the Aerial Surveys Committee presented by J. W. Pierce, D.L.S., at the Annual Convention of Dominion Land Surveyors at the Chateau Laurier today.

15,200 SQUARE MILES

An area the size of Switzerland lying to the west of Lake Winnipeg was not only protographed and mapped but cruised for pulp wood supplies all in one season. This operation, carried out at the request of the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, covered 15,200 square miles. Photographs taken by the Royal Canadian Air Force in early summer were used to plot timber-type maps which were then the basis of ground cruising by forestry officers, accomplishing a result in a few months utterly impossible without the assistance of photographic maps. Since the inauguration of aerial surveying six years ago, said Mr. Pierce, this art has repeatedly demonstrated its values in its application to mapping, especially in a new country of the extent of Canada, since by its use speed and economy are effected in mapping lands that by ordinary methods of ground survey would involve tremendous expenditure of time and effort.

USE OF STEREOSCOPE

Mr. Pierce reviewed some of the marvellous accomplishments with aerial photography in the realms of engineering, particularly through the most recent development in the use of the stereoscope with vertical aerial photographs. Through its use engineers had been enabled to locate an electric transmission line over 200 miles in length and even "spotted" the tower sites; an examination of 80 miles of river had disclosed dam sites and resultant flooded areas with such accuracy that engineers were able to go ahead with their preliminary plans, and a few ground measurements at critical points will check up the whole scheme in the place of surveys which would have taken years to execute. The stereoscope has also been used in the study of projected railway routes, in the geological examination of rock exposures and even to check up underwater conditions up to depths of twenty feet.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

ALASKA FISH BECOME ISSUE

George B. Grigsby, in Becoming Democratic Candidate, Urges Local Control

KETCHIKAN, Feb. 2.—The principal campaign issues in Alaska for the election of congressional delegates will be home rule and territorial control of the fisheries, George B. Grigsby, Ketchikan attorney, declared in accepting the nomination of the Seward Democratic convention and stating his intention to file in the primaries.

"One-man dictatorship of our principal industry," Mr. Grigsby said, "however honestly conducted, is un-American and inherently vicious. I am for territorial control of the fisheries, for full territorial government, and believe I can get both if I am elected."

HIS STATEMENT

M. Grigsby's statement follows in full:

"I shall accept the nomination of the Seward convention for delegate to congress and shall file in the primaries. I do not wish my convention nomination to be prejudicial to the aspirations of anyone else who may desire to get the primary nomination. If anyone can get more votes than I can in a primary election, he should be the nominee regardless of the action of any convention.

"From the outline of the platform adopted at Seward I find nothing inconsistent with the recently published Ketchikan platform with which I am in full accord. The main campaign issues in this Territory in the congressional election will be home rule and territorial control of the fisheries. Not a single forward step has been made by the present delegate on these two most vital propositions. The people of Alaska are, I believe, almost a unit for the fullest form of territorial government and control of our fisheries.

PRINCIPLES ENDORSED

"The national Democratic party has repeatedly endorsed both principles in its national platform, and with the election of a Democratic president and congress they will be enacted into law.

"I am an ardent supporter of Governor Al Smith and believe that he will be nominated and elected. If he is, the result will be the appointment of bona fide Alaskans to federal offices, and local self-government to the full extent ever accorded any other territory.

TERRITORIAL CONTROL

"Our legislature should have jurisdiction over fish and game. The present one-man dictatorship of our principal industry, however honestly conducted, is un-American and inherently vicious. No one knows today what the law will be tomorrow. It is fair neither to capital nor labor. It is within the power of one man to make or break the whole community by summary action based on his individual information or misinformation. I am for territorial control of the fisheries, for full territorial government, and believe I can get both if I am elected."

WAS VERY WEAK NERVOUS AND MELANCHOLY

Mrs. Geo. McKenzie, Campbellford, Ont., writes:—"A short time ago I was troubled very bady with my heart and nerves, the cause of it, I think, was my going through the change of life.

"I was very weak and melancholy, and so nervous I could hardly bear to hear a clock ticking, and I did not sleep well.

"I was advised to try MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS so I sent at once for a box; took them and got another, and before they were all gone I felt good, my nerves are fine, I do not mind any noise, and I can sleep well. I cannot recommend them too highly to those suffering as I did."

Price 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NEW METHOD USED IN CITY LIBRARIES

Machine for Checking Books Saves Lots of Time

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Making librarians out of machines instead of machines out of librarians is the avowed purpose of an instrument that has been installed in the New York Public Library to do the vast amount of clerical work in checking books in and out.

The machine, which has been installed in the central circulating branch of the library at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue, eliminates the writing of innumerable figures by the librarian as she receives and dispenses books.

With one punch it dates both the borrower's card and the card that is attached to the book. A little tin plate bearing the imprint of the borrower's card number is attached to the card and as a book is taken out, and the card is checked through the machine it leaves the borrower's card number upon the book card, making a record of the date and person borrowing the volume.

The installation of the machine in the busiest circulating branch in the city has expedited the handling of the large crowd the officials say.

SCHOOL BOY READY FOR THE OCCASION

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Lord Charlemont, minister of education for Ulster, put the following poser during a visit to Portora Road School, Enniskillen:—

"If a coin were dug up in a garden at Canterbury, which was in the area of the Roman occupation of Britain, with Julius Caesar on it, and date 'B.C. 43,' was the coin genuine or not? Give reason for answer."

The masters could not answer it, and only one boy could. Lord Charlemont gave him a watch. The boy's answer—and the right answer—was: "No. How could the man who minted the coin know that the year was B.C. 43?"

Mrs. P. Regan, R.N., lady superintendent of the Francois Lake Hospital, arrived in the city from the interior on this afternoon's train and will sail tomorrow morning on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver enroute to Vancouver Island on a holiday visit.
