WERE LOST IN THE FOG

QUEBEC, April 14.—On approaching the coast line of Newfoundland yesterday the German airplane Bremen struck a thick fog and the airmen lost their bearings completely, according to an official report of their landings on Greenly Island received here today from the airmen themselves.

After wandering in the air for four hours they made a landing on a small lake on the island about 5.30 yesterday afternoon.

An inspection of the plane showed that it was more seriously injured than was at first thought and it is believed the machine cannot leave for a few days.
