BRINGING UP FATHER

IMMIGRATION OF MANY BOYS

Co-operative Scheme to Train Young Men for Positions in This Country as Farmers

(Financial Post)
The Boy Immigration scheme, after fluttering for many months between success and failure, seems now assured a permanent place among the settlement policies of the immigration department.

About one year ago, Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration, entered into an agreement with the British government whereby it was proposed to spend $5,000,000 over a period of ten years, in recoverable advances to assist British boys to take up farming in Canada. The purpose is to obtain boys between the age of 14 and 20 years, bring them to Canada, place them on a provincial farm for tuition and, when qualified, to assist them up to $2,500 in purchasing a farm and equipment.

The provinces were to co-operate by providing training farms, and undertaking to assist in placing the boys at work with farmers, and, eventually, in selecting a farm for him. Hitherto, the provinces have not been eager to enter into the scheme, but with the admission of Manitoba in the last few days, the development of the scheme is now certain. So far, Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba and, possibly, Saskatchewan, have agreed to co-operate. Ontario will take several hundred of these boys this year; Manitoba, 50; and the other provinces about 100 between them.

In Ottawa, much is expected of this scheme for the reason that there are about 500,000 boys turned out of the schools of British each year, who seek a place in industry. These boys are splendid raw material and, if trained over a period of two or three years, should make successful farmers. The expenses of the scheme are divided as follows:—The cost of bringing the boys out is borne jointly by the Canadian and British governments. Tuition on provincial farms and placement at work for Canadian farmers, is paid for by the three governments, in the ratio of British government one half; Dominion and provincial governments one quarter each. The boys will hire out more or less as wards of the province and the provincial governments will see they get fair wages. It is thought that $120 per year would be adequate. When the boy reaches the age of 21, he should have saved $500 and, if so, the British and Dominion governments will assist him up to $2,500 in buying and equipping a farm. All outlays on the boys are to be repaid over a period of years. In this manner many good citizens are being made for Canada.

EXCELSIOR MUSIC CLUB ENTERTAINED BY LOCAL SINGERS ON SATURDAY

A special meeting of the Excelsior Music Club was held at the home of Miss Way on Saturday evening. The club, which is composed of Miss Way's own students, was entertained by Mrs. Jarvis McLeod, Mrs. H. C. Fraser, Messrs. McPherson and J. S. Wilson to a delightful program of song. The songs chosen were those that appealed to and amused the children, who voiced their appreciation by begging that the event might be repeated at stated intervals. Accompanists for the evening were Mrs. Fraser and Miss Way.

DINNER HELD ON SATURDAY

Local Swedes Are Hosts to Capt. Graaf and Officers of Grain Ship Sagoland

Members of the local Swedish colony were hosts to Capt. Graaf and his officers of the grain ship Sagoland at a dinner Saturday evening in the Central Hotel, the event proving very enthusiastic and enjoyable. There were about twenty-eight persons present.

John Dybbach, Norwegian consul, presided in the absence of the Swedish consul, Olof Hanson, and speakers included Capt. Graaf and other officers of the Sagoland, G. W. Nickerson, M. P. McCaffery, A. Wallstedt (Juneau), F. W. Hart and Oscar Larsen. B. Nordstrom gave piano and vocal solos which were greatly enjoyed.

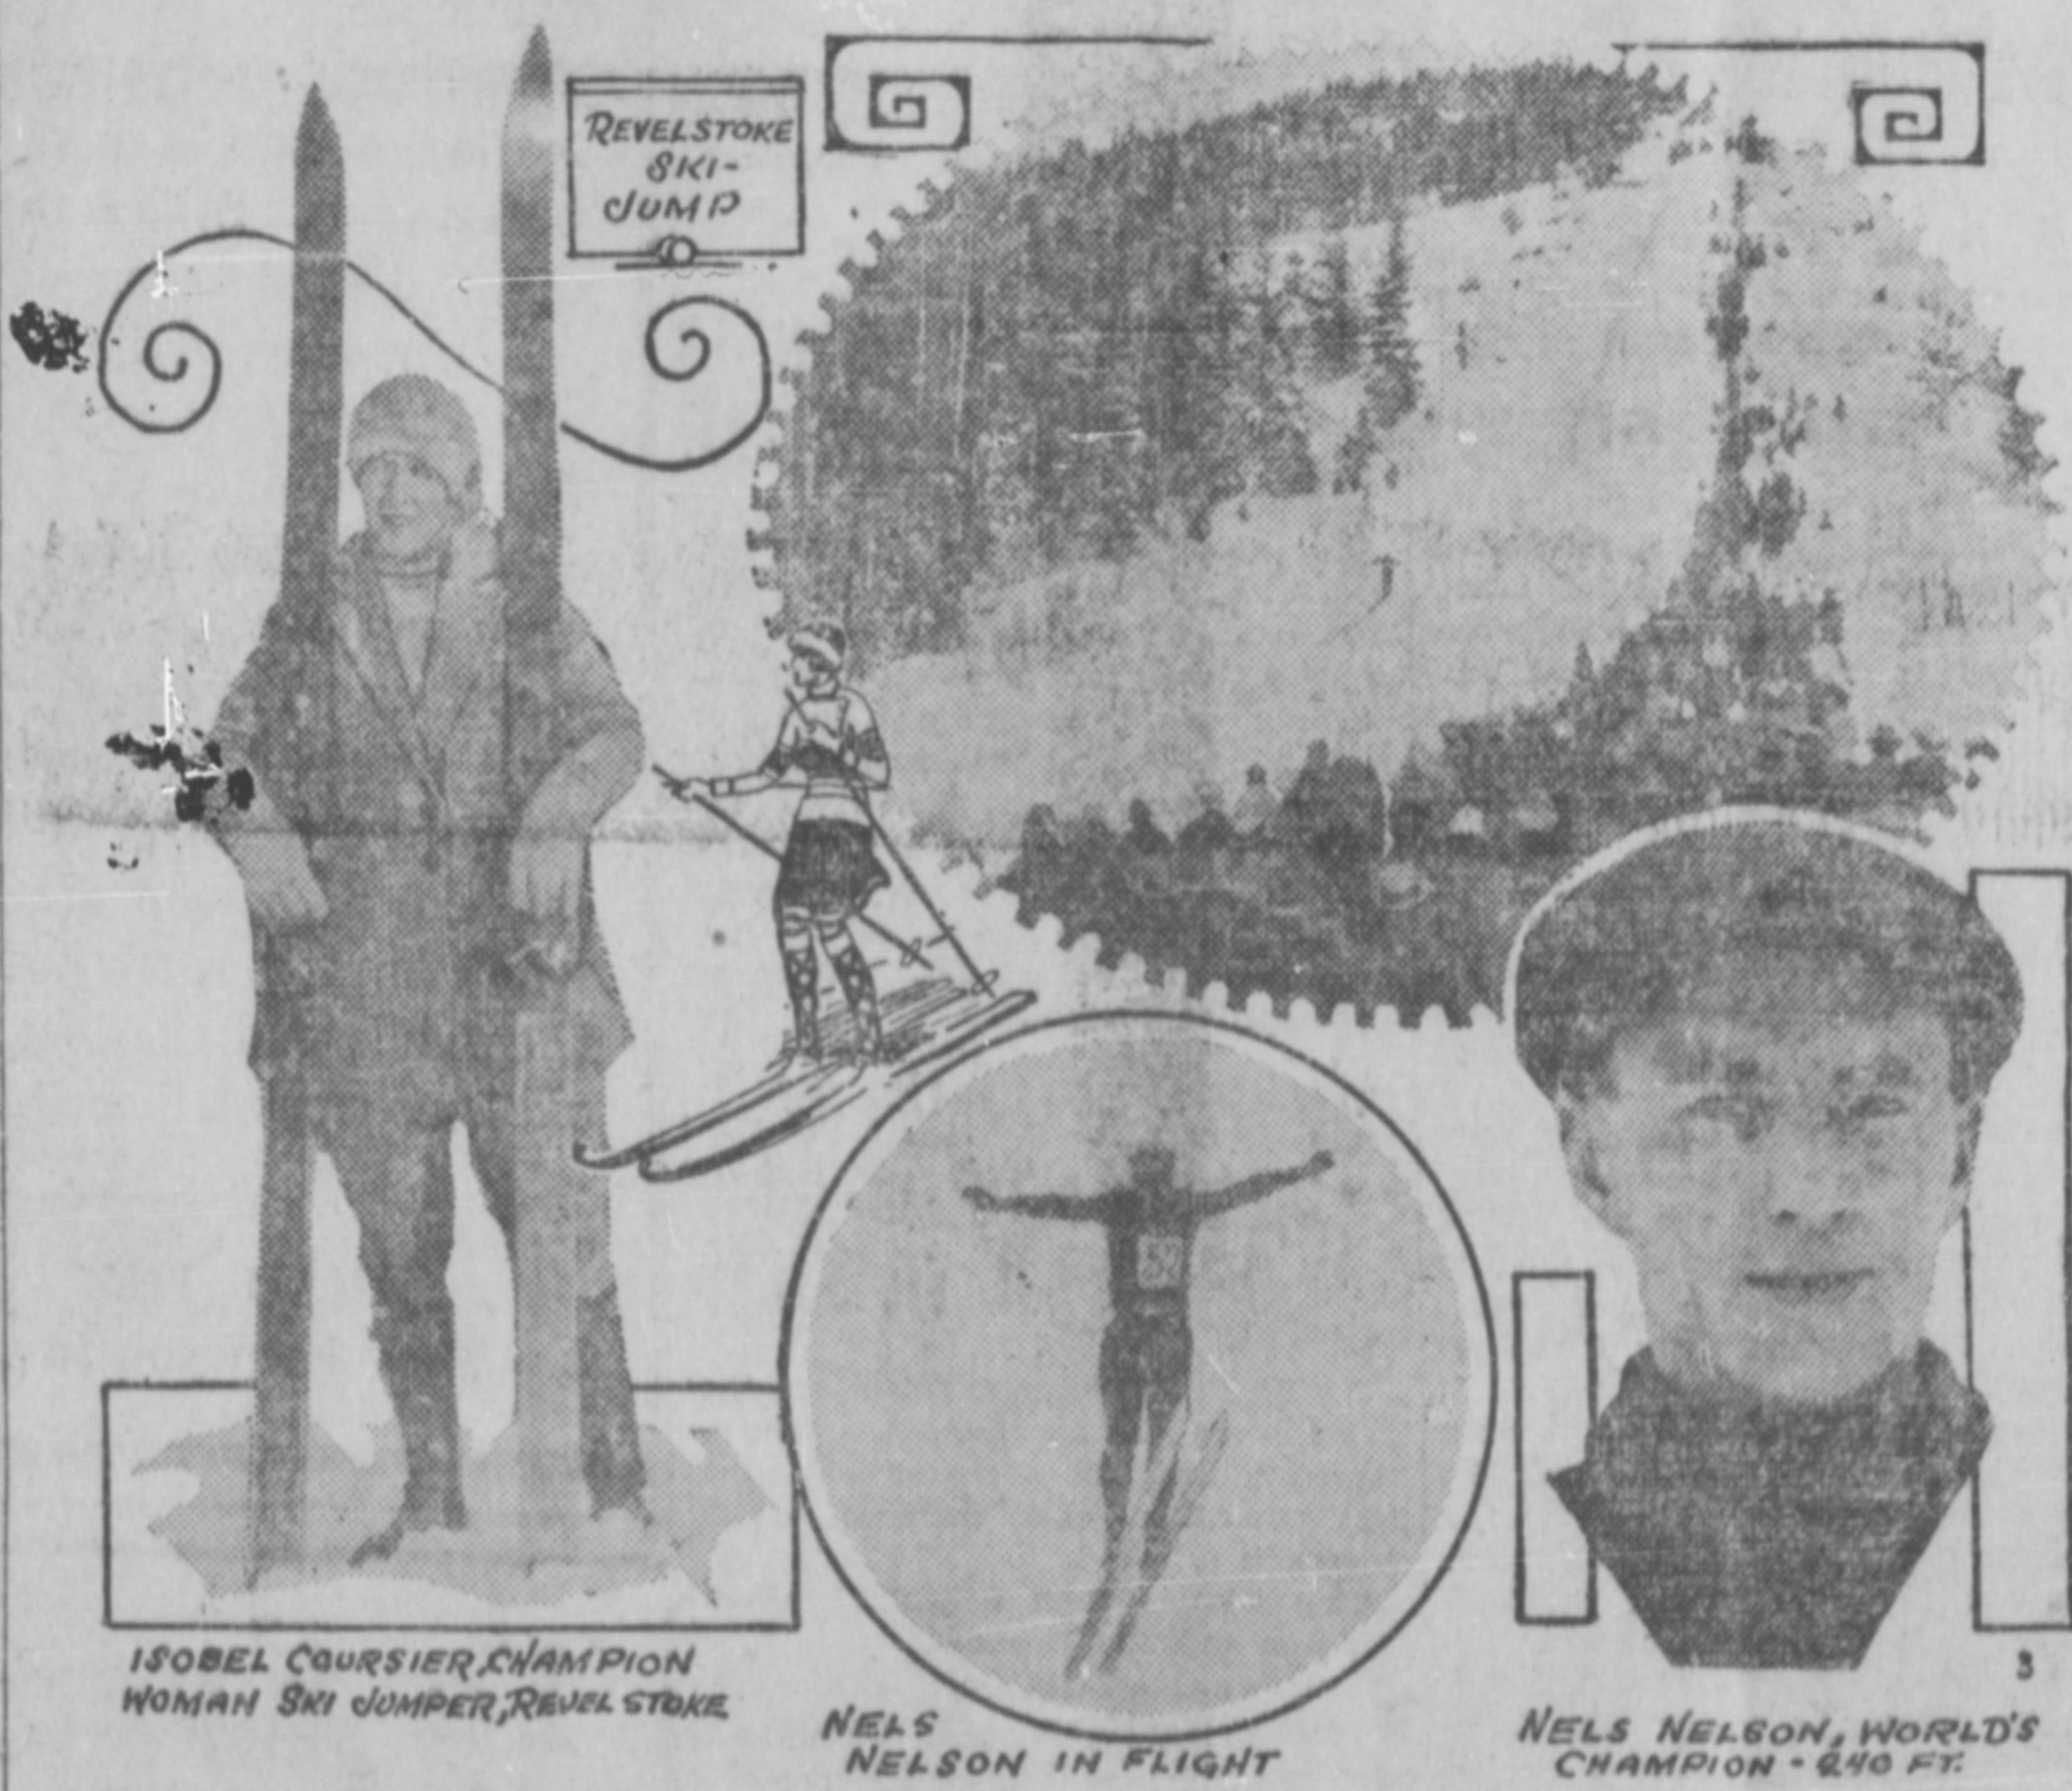

Capt. Graaf, who punctuated his address with many witticisms, referred to his drive around town which he and his officers had enjoyed during the afternoon. He was greatly surprised with the port of Prince Rupert and its facilities, particularly the dry dock and cold storage plants. He referred to the fact that he, himself, was practically a native of the British Columbia coast. While he was born in Sweden, his father was a rancher on Cortez Island, sixty years ago and he himself had been engaged in fishing during his youth on this coast.

Responsible for the successful arrangement of the banquet were F. Hart and Oscar Larsen.

After the banquet, the local hosts were suitably entertained aboard the Sagoland.

ISOBEL COURSIER CHAMPION WOMAN SKI JUMPER REVELSTOKE

NELS NELSON IN FLIGHT

NELS NELSON, WORLD'S CHAMPION - 640 FT.

The town of Revelstoke, nestled among the Selkirk Mountains in the broad valley of the Columbia river, in British Columbia, is noted for two things: its National Park, situated on top of Mount Revelstoke, and its world famous ski-jump where world records have been made and up to the present date not surpassed.

The Revelstoke Winter Carnival extends from February 6-10 inclusive. During this celebration the fourteenth annual ski-jumping tournament takes place on February 7-8. The famous hill, where the jumps are made, has a total length of 1,750 feet, with a runway of 500 feet. The distance from the take-off to the furthest point at which a safe landing is assured, is 250 feet, or 40 feet beyond the present world record.

Nels Nelson, a brakeman on the Canadian Pacific Railway, established his world record jump of 249 feet in 1925. The woman's record jump of 84 feet was also made on the Revelstoke ski hill in 1922, by Isobel Coursier, a record which still stands.

Little children in this mountain town who can do little more than walk begin to ski as soon as there is sufficient snow and they are brought up to think no more of skiing than the average child thinks of walking. The children have their own hill and little jumps from which they graduate one by one.

Revelstoke has an unusually large skating rink for the size of the town and there are four curling rinks. The dates for the Banff Winter Carnival are from February 4-11, making it possible for sport enthusiasts to take part in both events. Canadians are great lovers of the out-of-doors and winter sports are an important factor in the lives of young people in this land of the maple leaf. Quebec and Montreal are the two eastern centers for sports, Winnipeg is the middle west and Banff and Revelstoke still farther west. Western Canada has an abundance of sunshine and the weather is all anyone could desire for it does not freeze and thaw alternately, postponing special competitions or trips, but remains a fairly even temperature. Canadians and Americans will soon realize the utility of traveling long distances and spending large sums of money to enjoy winter sports in Norway, Sweden or Switzerland when there are so many delightful winter resorts in the Dominion of Canada.

The announced retirement from the ring of Jack Dempsey came as no shock to lovers of the fist art. As a matter of fact there are many who are glad that Dempsey has decided that he is through. A great fighter admittedly, probably the greatest in heavyweight history, there were several factors that none the less made the Manassa Mauler an unpopular champion. All of which, now that he is through, it should be neither the time nor the place to discuss. Now there is a fair field and free for the crown which rested for so many years on the head of Dempsey and which has never seemed so secure in the possession of Gene Tunney, great fighter and clever one that he may be. While Tunney is as popular a champion as Dempsey was not, there are none the less many observers of the game who would not be surprised to see a change in the possession of the title this year. There are many aspirants but one stands out. He is Jack Delaney. Tiffler seems to be little doubt that within the next few months, Delaney will work his way through to the foot of the throne. Whether he will be able to ascend the steps and dethrone the present King is the speculation of the hour. Many think he will and, of course, many believe he will not. This is a great game, this heavyweight boxing. Speculation in regard to its contributors much to its greatness and also to the riches of its moguls.

ADVANTAGE OF BEING KILLED BY CROCODILE
TONONTO, Feb. 6.—Miss Margaret Cockshutt, speaking to the Press Club on her recent tour of Africa, had one reassuring remark to make about crocodiles. "They don't eat you at once; they tuck you away under a rock ledge where you can drown in peace and come back later for a bite."

Victoria Falls, Miss Cockshutt declared, was more wonderful than Niagara. She described a diamond rush from Johannesburg, in which 7,000 took part. "The government sells 'runners' and 'diggers' licenses to those who desire to take part. All line up, and when the flag drops the mad rush starts over an area of from one to three miles. On the occasion of their visit a small boy of 16 led the field."
