Discovery of Copper Ore on Douglas Channel Reported-Work Starting on Cronin Mine-Inspecting Telkwa Coal and Iron

A large deposit of copper ore is reported to have been discovered on Douglas Channel in the Kitimaat district by Ceasar Vannagil of Terrace who has been associated with Barney Colbachinni, who has put a good deal of money into prospecting in the district. The discovery is said to be of considerable importance and ore that has been brought from it has attracted considerable attention. No doubt it will be the cause of more prospectors and mining men going into the district. The ledge is reported to be 54 feet wide and has been traced for a long distance. It is said to run right down to deep water which would permit* of the ore being handled direct syndicate has been endeavoring

Rapid progress is being made at the Duthie mine in the work of turning from steam to electrical power in all the workings and also with the moving of the power plant and camp headquarters from city en route to his home in low the switchbacks. The new power plant is being established the Indian trade to Prince Rucrete foundations are rapidly taking form as carpenters erect the buildings to house the mamachinery. The work is due for completion before the winter freeze-up. Wood will continue to be used as fuel and a new big boiler has just been delivered to the mine. The new camp buildings, near the present community, will include bunkhouse having accommodation for sixty men, cook-house, dining hall, washroom, offices and several private dwellings. With this work proceeding, production at the mine is well maintained and development is being carried on well ahead of the work. Diamond drills continue to disclose large bodies of fine dre.
