Khutze Inlet Mine Beginning to Ship Ore—Good Ore on United Empire—Marmot River Gold to Work This Winter

The Western Copper mine, located on Khutze Inlet, about eighty miles south of Prince Rupert, is now commencing to return to its owners, the Detroit Western Mining Co., some of the huge sum of $300,000 which has been spent in connection with opening it up. The property is six miles inland from tidewater with which connection will be maintained by means of a railway line which is being built. The property comprises 48 crown granted claims and five timber and land claims which give a total area of 2535.38 acres. The claims were first located in 1904 by Meldum & McLeod and were soon sold to Martin & Shannon of Vancouver who, after a careful survey of the property, crarried out considerable development work in the way of open cuts and test tunnels to determine the values of the ore bodies. Martin & Shannon later sold the property to the Revenue Mining Co. which carried out considerable further development work and established the fact that there was a very large ore body carrying good value in gold and copper. After considerable negotiations, a deal for the sale of the property was made by the Revenue Mining Co. to the Detroit Western Co. for $1,250,000 to be paid at the rate of forty per cent on all smelter returns received by the purchasers, but, in any event, the entire sum to be paid by December 17, 1932. It is estimated by Detroit-Western officials that all payments will be completed from smelter returns long before that date. The expenditure by the Detroit-Western Co. of over $300,000 on development work, camp buildings, railway, etc., has ensued as a result of which the property is now in good shape to carry on steady production. It is even said by some experts that the property will soon be one of the world's best producers as its veins have been traced for 4½ miles and range from one to ten and five feet. The new owners recently made an initial smelter shipment of 137 tons, netting $40 to the ton in gold and copper on run of mine ore. In future only selected ore is to be shipped for treatment, the remainder to be set aside for milling. It is expected that the sorted ore will average $100 a ton. Monthly shipments are to be made from now on until such time as the underground work permits of continuous production of 100 tons per day. At the present rate of development, this stage is expected to be reached within the next six months.

Assays of samples taken across the face of a new vein discovered in the United Empire group at Stewart gave a total value of $80 per ton in gold, silver and lead. The vein has been cut by the development tunnel and gives every indication of increasing with distance and depth. The vein was also open cut for a distance of 14 feet, all of which was in ore. A tunnel will also be driven during the winter in No. 1 vein for the purpose of drifting on the ore which is now exposed on the surface for 650 feet, showing high grade for the greater part of the distance.

In order to allow development work to be actively pushed during the coming winter months on the Marmot River Gold Mines Ltd. at Stewart, the directors have given orders to temporarily suspend work on No. 2 tunnel and concentrate all energies on No. 3 tunnel so as to get the latter well advanced before snow comes. This will allow the property to be worked on all three levels as No. 1 and No. 2 tunnels are both in considerable distance. No. 3 tunnel is to be driven at a point on the vein system some distance east of the other two. Surface showings are impressive, two well-defined veins being found running more or less parallel which appear to meet at a distance about 6,000 feet from the camp. These veins are persistent with a width of from seven to fourteen feet and giving high values in gold and silver. The directors of the company, which is amply financed, are: President, Brig.-Gen. James Duff-Stuart; managing director, G. R. Bancroft; secretary-treasurer, H. J. Bush and P. E. Pierce.
