The grain export business of Prince Rupert is steadily developing. Last year about eight million bushels of grain was shipped through the terminal elevator and this year promises to greatly exceed that mark.

The City owns its Power, Light, Water Supply and Telephones.

The schools are excellent.

Roads are paved and concrete sidewalks are being laid.

PRINCE RUPERT IS ONE OF THE COMING COMMER-CIAL CENTRES OF THE PACIFIC COAST, THE PRO-BABLE OUTLET OF THE GREAT PEACE RIVER COUNTRY, AND SURROUNDED BY A RAPIDLY DEVELOPING TERRITORY

Prince Rupert is the logical site of a customs smelter which would serve the mines of Portland Canal, the Bulkley and Skeena Valleys and coast points.

This Dance Frock Features a Bolero Cocktail Jacket

Here is a frock that carries out the uneven line both on the waist and the skirt. As you can see the waist is slightly shorter in front, as is the skirt.

Blue taffeta, very soft and lustrous, is the medium. Its skirt, is, of course very full, and sports an enormous bow, which ends in very long, wide streamers.

Horn is a New Medium for Fur The voque for fur has reached such an intensity that whole suits are made of the flat pelts.

Such a one is pictured in the illustration above. Of beigo broadtail, the coat and skirt ar cut in straight lines. The blouse however, strikes a more feminine note. It is of tan erepe, embroidered in brown, with an amusing tie and a belt also in brown

A NEW AFTERNOON FROCK WHICH SHOULD SET SEVERAL NEW FASHIONS

Many of the more important afternoon frocks show fur trimmings this season. The favorite furs used are soft, light foxes or the flatter broadtails and caraculs. Goatskin is also a favorite trimming, though that appears on the more tailored models.

Black canton crepe is the medium for this frock. Its snug hipline is accented by the band of broadtail interestingly placed.
