FIGHTING DAYS OVER

Time is the master of all. No matter who we are, saint or sinner, we have to eventually succumb when Old Father Time gets his grip on us and puts us out of business.

That is what has happened to Jack Dempsey. He finds himself older, his agility is passing and younger men are taking his place. However, Dempsey, unlike most fighters, has laid up store of this world's goods so that he will always have plenty as long as he lives.

While not wishing to sermonize at this end of the week, we suggest that we may learn a little lesson from Dempsey. We shall not always be as young as we are today and it is rather a bad thing to see a man who has done splendid work in his day having to depend upon cold charity or rather colder relatives to keep him as he gets older.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

What does this rise in price of stocks mean? Everywhere we find a buying spirit in vogue. In British Columbia it was noticed that mining stocks all advanced. For the past several weeks the big concerns that sell on Wall Street have been having their inning and there never before were such prices paid as those of yesterday. To those of us who are not conversant with financial matters it is difficult to understand what it all means and why the stocks are worth more today than they were a month ago.

RELIGION AND PRICES

The demands of Holy Week seem to have been responsible for the sudden rise in the price of halibut. During next week nothing but fish will be eaten by many people, the fast ending with the coming of Easter. Then there is likely to be a falling off in demand which will affect the prices here this week-end. Possibly the demand will fall off by the middle of the week.

Those who had fish-to-sell at the peak prices have been in luck. It is a bright spot in an otherwise dreary fishing season.

IMPETUS TO FLYING

Flying seems to have received a great impetus of late. In all parts of the world there is a revival and soon it will be as common to go up in the air as today it is to take a run out in the Ford. What is needed now is the standardizing of a machine that will combine safety with cheapness of operation. Speed will not be so much a consideration except with those who wish to break records. Any air speed will be a great change from land speeds. What Ford did with automobiles some clever young man may do with airplanes.

GIRTH CONTROL IS GREATEST PROBLEM

The problem interesting more people than any other in this country today is girthing control. There is no topic of conversation more general and more personally important to multitudes of people than how to keep from getting too fat. It is a strange phenomenon in a world that, from the dawn of history, has been hard put to it to get enough to eat. It is probable that there never has been a time when more than half of the world's population was not more or less continuously hungry, but in the United States food is so abundant that everybody must be warned not to eat too much, and there is a protest against reclaiming land just its cultivation should increase an already em-

WHAT I MIGHT HAVE BEEN

As Told to Harold C. Burr By MARY PICKFORD

THE girl who has sold her way into millions of American hearts would like to be a saleswoman. It was fate that made Mary Pickford an actress, chance that led her into pictures, but in the back of her mind being a salesgirl has its attractions.

"Next to what I'm doing, selling is the profession that interests me most vitally," says Miss Pickford.

Necessity sent her early to work, and has made her wealthy and wise. She started acting on the stage when she was 5 years old with a stock company in Toronto, Canada, taking the part of a waif.

"My dream of wealth at that time," owns Million Dollar Mary, "was to wear an ermine coat and a pearl necklace and walk down the aisle of a theatre. Now it's the last thing I want to do."

Afterward she went to the old Biograph studio in New York, with her mother, looking for work. D. W. Griffith passed her as he was leaving. He hadn't seen her act, but she was a wholesome little girl, and he engaged her on the spot at $5 per day. In two weeks she was playing leads.

If she hadn't gone to the studio she might conceivably have cultivated her leaning toward portrait painting. Interior decorating was another possibility. But most likely she would have got a job as a salesgirl in a department store. Today her name might have been written imperishably on an office door instead of on a silver screen.

Urged, she explained her preference for saleswomanship. "The human contacts of selling make it fascinating, studying the reactions of all kinds and types of people under different conditions. The salesgirl is daily in this contact with hundreds of people in every class of life, and she cannot help but be influenced, in a varying degree, by each contact.

"One customer may be kind and considerate; another querulous and difficult to please. One will take a personal interest in everything the girl does, while another may satisfy her own inferiority complex by being haughty and snobbish. And each will have a distinct effect upon the girl herself. "Stenographers and teachers don't have such a chance to learn by personal contact. A salesgirl knows every one, meets every one, and consequently she acquires an immense amount of general knowledge about people."

Miss Pickford broke off to smile reminiscently. "I'm not just theorizing. I worked in a 5-and-10-cent store before starting to shoot scenes in one of my pictures. I did it to get the atmosphere and find out exactly a salesgirl's reactions. The first day I got so excited I short-changed a woman 5 cents! But it's grinding work. I just wish that some of the people I've seen shopping, arguing with salesgirls and making themselves generally disagreeable could go behind a counter.

"In spite of that drawback, I really think I will go back and try it again some day. I learned more about human nature in a few days than I would ordinarily in years. And I'm sure I can get my old job back," she said, laughing.

BESNER TAKES CHIEF SKUGAID

WELL KNOWN HALIBUT SCHOONER SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $4,000 BY SHERIFF YESTERDAY

At a sale in the office of Sheriff S. A. Nickerson yesterday afternoon the well known halibut schooner Chief Skugaid was sold to Oiler Besner of this city for an even $4,000 after a brief but active session of bidding which was opened by Mr. Besner at $2,500. A. D. McBride, representing the Hecate Fish Products Co., Ltd. of Vancouver, raised Mr. Besner's first bid to $2700 and stayed in until $3,500 was reached when E. C. Gibbons put in a few bids, the vessel finally going to Mr. Besner at the figure stated. The sale was conducted by the sheriff.

The Chief Skugaid was built in 1914 by the Vancouver Shipyards Ltd. at Vancouver for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. which operated the vessel for several years in the halibut fisheries. Subsequently the Cold Storage disposed of the schooner which was then operated for a few years in the liquor-carrying trade out of Vancouver, returning to Prince Rupert last year under the ownership of Capt. G. McColl Smith and again entering the halibut fishing industry. The vessel is 77 feet long (87 feet over all) with a beam of eighteen feet and depth of 8 ft. 6 in. She has a 125 h.p. Imperial gasoline engine which gives her a speed of some 9 or 10 knots. The vessel is also equipped with a 32 volt electric lighting system driven by a 10 h.p. Imperial Engine and has hold space for some sixty tons of fish. Her oil tanks are of 3,500 gallons capacity and water tanks, 1000 gallons. Twenty-five skates of gear went with the boat.

Attending the sale were Capt. W. P. Armour, R. E. Moore, Walter Hume, Oiler Besner, J. A. Kirkpatrick, E. C. Gibbons, Capt. W. J. Thomas, Capt. C. C. Ketchum, G. W. Nickerson and W. O. Fulton.

THEATRE PLANS ARE APPROVED

PERMIT FOR NEW ALVIZOFF STRUCTURE GRANTED WITHOUT COMMENT AT LAST NIGHT'S COUNCIL MEETING

At a brief meeting of the city council last night, the session lasting little more than five minutes, approval was given plans for the new theatre to be erected on Third Avenue by Misak and Paul Alvizoff on motion of Ald. Collart, seconded by Ald. Brown.

The permit thus granted applies merely to the building and permit will be later sought for the seating arrangement which, in the original plans, is not in compliance with the terms of the city bylaws. The original permit having been refused by the city engineer for this reason, the builders through J. H. Pillsbury, successfully sought for a permit covering the construction of the building alone.

Ald. Collart, in moving that the permit be granted, informed the council that plans for the building had been approved both by the building inspector (the city engineer) and the fire marshal for the province. The city solicitor corroborated this statement and advised the council that it might grant the permit.

There was no further discussion in connection with the passing of the motion. The granting of the permit opens the way for the Alvizoffs to proceed with the construction of the theatre immediately following the completion of pile-driving and excavation which is now under way. It is expected that the contract will be let within a few days.

The amended plans call for a "Class B" building under the city bylaws instead of a "Class A" structure as originally planned.

MEMBERS OF FIRESIDE CLUB ARE ENTERTAINED

Delightful Social Held Last Evening by Young People's Society of First United Church

The Young People's Society of First United Church entertained at a return social last evening in honor of the members of the Fireside Club of First Baptist Church. There was a large crowd of young people present, all of whom enjoyed the proceedings to the full.

An interesting paper was read by George H. Stocks on the subject "What is Unique in the Function of the Church toward World Betterment." The paper was well prepared and covered the subject adequately. A discussion followed in which a number of the guests participated including Rev. W. F. Price and R. W. Howard, president of the Fireside Club.

Following the paper and discussion, there was a social hour with music and games and the serving of refreshments, the function coming to a close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."
