It is announced that on account of the great interest taken in the transcontinental footrace last March, the event is to become an annual one. The second race will start from New York City on or about March 31, but the Pacific coast finishing point has not yet been decided upon. Apparently the promoters are open to bids.

There will be 15 prizes offered, varying all the way from $25,000 down to $700, aggregating $50,000, and there will be an entry fee of $300 and each will pay his own expenses.

Last year there were 10 prizes aggregating $48,000.

Andre Routis, the new king of the featherweights, is a Frenchman—an orphan boy from Bordeaux, who tossed aside his automobile mechanic's tools in 1919 to work as a planter—at least he went into the business of planting solid socks against various parts of his opponent's anatomy—and has done very well at it. Routis' father was killed in the closing days of the World War and his mother died of a heart attack when she received the sad news. Andre tried to drown his sorrow in vin blanc one night and got into a quarrel with another lad and on the strength of his showing in that set-to young Routis decided that he would find out how good he might be in a ring fighting for real money. That is how he started on the road which led to his defeat of Tony Consoneri of Brooklyn, for the crown.

Woman Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ont.—"I am willing to answer letters from other women, to tell them the wonderful good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. I cannot be thankful enough for the benefits I received during the Change of Life. I do housework and my troubles made me unfit to work. A friend advised me to try the Vegetable Compound. I felt great relief at once, began to regain my appetite, and my nerves got better. I will recommend your medicine to all with troubles like I had."—Mrs. JOHN BENSON, 162 N. Christina St., Sarnia, Ontario.

Goblers

Turkeys are harder to rear than children sometimes, but they mature earlier, and once they reach maturity there is less chance of them going wrong. W. Freeman with his tremendous flock demonstrates that other than wheat can be raised in Alberta. He gets his greatest returns at a time when Santa Claus is making his heaviest outlays. The farm is at Strathmore, where is also the Canadian Pacific Experimental Farm.
