AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

To Diamond Drill Rufus Argenta—Jack Pedersen Negotiates New Deal at Stewart—Bitter Creek Section Looks Promising

A diamond drilling contract for the Rufus-Argenta at Stewart has been let to Lynch Bros. of Seattle by J. F. Duthie, who has the property under bond, and a crew of men and machinery has arrived on the ground. There was already one diamond drilling outfit on the property and it is expected this will also be utilized by Mr. Duthie. M. M. Reese, mining engineer for the company, has selected a site for the commencement of drilling operations and eight men are employed in building a trail to the site and blasting out a station for the machines. It is expected that work will continue on the property throughout the winter, all surface equipment for present requirements being already provided. Mr. Duthie is said to be paying thirty cents for 1,600,000 Rufus- Argenta shares which will give him control of the property.

Duthie Mines Ltd., which has the Mamie group on Hudson Bay Mountain under option, is starting up work once more on that well known property. The new work will consist of further crosscut and drift tunnelling from the point where the Federal Mining Co. left off four years ago when it had the Mamie under its control.

Jack Pedersen, well known pioneer of Stewart camp, who has handled some of the most important deals ever negotiated there, has taken a bond on behalf of himself and associates on the Nelly W. and May group of six claims, situated on the south fork of Glacier Creek above the Ben Bolt and owned by Harry J. Thomey, Frank Haugh and associates. Four veins, three of them parallel and the fourth in a cross-vein have been located on the property besides a large copper-bearing zone which is a diamond drilling proposition. A considerable amount of development prospecting has been done including a forty-foot adit tunnel which carries at least a foot of high-grade ore all the way. It is the intention of the bonders to do some development this fall and have the property surveyed, the probability being that a development company will be organized for future work. Very advantageous terms are reported to have been secured in the bond.

A collection of fine looking specimens of galena ore has been brought into the Stewart News office by Mr. Peterson, one of the owners of the Hyder-Butte property in the Salmon River section on the Alaska side. These were taken from the face of a tunnel now being driven into the hill. Present intention is to drive this tunnel for 600 feet, following the vein which has been traced on the surface for 1300 feet. The property is under the management of J. C. Boulton of Seattle whose brother, Henry C. Boulton, is president of the Hyder-Butte property.

C. W. Magee, A. Casey and George Lowe are producing spectacular ore on their Stimulator group of claims on the west side of the main Marmot River, samples brought to Stewart showing free gold in profusion with which is associated bornite copper in quartz gangue matter. The claims are in a very rugged section. Nevertheless, the owners are getting the ground pretty well prospected and have a net-work of small high-grade gold-copper veins and a larger silver-lead cross-vein of later origin and cutting the main system. A tunnel started on one of the veins is reported to be now in thirty feet with three feet of vein matter and high grade ore in the face.

Some fine looking samples are being brought into Stewart from the Stewart Central, property which comprises a large group on the south side of Bitter Creek about two miles from the wagon road. A number of veins have been located on the property but the work so far this year has been confined to prospecting the surface of one which has been traced by stripping and open cutting for a distance of eight hundred feet and is a good strong vein. The ore shows principally chalcopyrite and iron and the principal values are in copper with an encouraging amount of gold and silver. The Bitter Creek section has been receiving more attention this year than it has got for some time past and it is confidently predicted that some producing mines will result. Work is proceeding on the Radio and Mayou groups, owned by companies, and on a number of privately owned claims, good results being reported. Samples from a large silver-lead vein on the Mayou were brought in recently and, while not yet assayed, from appearance, should run well. A small cross-vein assays from 400 to 500 ounces in silver and 40 to 60 per cent lead. This is very similar in appearance to the Ore Mountain property which is on the same hill. A strong veing being opened up on the Radio carries values principally in copper, the ore much resembling that on the Stewart Central.

UNITED CHURCH ON ALCOHOLISM

SERIOUS CONDITION SAID TO EXIST IN BRITISH COLUMBIA BY VANCOUVER PARSON

ST. CLOUD Sept. 13.—A tribute to the Government of Manitoba for its appointment of an official whose duty it to see that proper instructions on the subject of alcoholism are given to the public schools was paid by Rev. Henry Carter in an address to the commissioners at the General Council of the United Church here Wednesday.

Rev. Richmond Craig of Vancouver speaking of conditions in B. C. declared Mr. Carter was going to find a serious condition in the coast province.

"British Columbia was the first to tc try prohibition, the first to try Government control and will be the first to tell the liquor interests to get out and stay out," he said. "We are building our educational institutions and our hospitals on beer kegs," continued Craig. "Thirty-five million dollars have been spent on liqor during seven years."

UNITED CHURCH REACHES UNITY

DECIDES TWO CONTROVERSIAL QUESTIONS AT SESSION WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—Two controversial subjects were amicably settled Wednesday by the General Council of Unitad Church of Canada. The position of the paid officials of the church is settled. There had been a demand from the carious commissioners that the number of paid officials of the church should be reduced, thus releasing a number for other important work such as the pastorates. The report of the committee was presented by Hon. N. W. Rowell and General Ross showing the number of officials had been reduced by eleven since Union and that a further reduction of five was planned but that it was considered inadvisable that further paid officials be released from their present duties. The report was approved.

The appointment of Rev. Charles Endicott of Saskatooon to the position of associate secretary of the missionary an extension fund was approved following a lengthy debate.

TRUST THE PEOPLE

"I am always willing," said the candidate as he hit the table a terrific bang with his clinched fist, "to trust the people."

"Great Scott," shouted the little man in the audience, "I wish you'd open a grocery store in our district."

Be sure always to ask for Quick Quaker. You will know it by the figure of the Quaker on the big full weight, family package, and small ten cent size. Both are wrapped and sealed. Each package contains a coupon with which you can secure many household and personal articles of genuine value.

SUCH a start in life for a child is largely the result of proper feeding. Yet records show that one child in three is handicapped because of early nutritional troubles. Lots to eat? Yes, but not the proper food.

Quick Quaker Oats feeds children properly. The food elements are in scientific balance. Sixteen per cent is protein, which builds tissue and gives stamina. Carbohydrates, 65%, supply abundant energy to active, youthful bodies. And then minerals for blood and bone; roughage, a natural laxative, and the important vitamin B, which aids in the assimilation of all foods.

Children relish Quick Quaker every morning. Because the most perfectly balanced cereal, it sustains throughout long morning hours when most work is done in school and at play.
