AUNT SUSAN'S VISIT IS SEEN

SKETCH AT UNITED CHURCH LAST NIGHT PROVES TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

The sketch "Aunt Susan's Visit" was splendidly presented at the First United Church last evening before a large and very appreciative audience. The cast included some who were making their initial bow in Prince Rupert and their acting was of a very high standard. Outstanding, however, was Miss I. Haddock, who, as Aunt Susan, was just the kind of aunt that we all would love. Mrs. Manson, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Black were good interpreters of their parts with Mrs. Steen a real aristocrat. Cathie Irvine was an exceedingly attractive Mary Alice and Mrs. Wilkinson a literary maid who hoped to change her single life and her prospective husband's outlook on life at the same time. Mrs. Cornish, a very pleasing maid, completed the ladies' part. Earl Barrie gave a fine presentation of the father who was true to the old simple standards and appreciated honest and natural friends. Bert Vandewater made a plausible Senator who was quick to make up his mind when the fair Alice appeared. Frank Vickers as Guy de Marchmont Cogg looked as if he needed the cows' milk that Aunt Susan prescribed for him.

The Ladies' Aid is to be congratulated on the success of the sketch which will be presented again tonight. Mrs. Manson as director, has made a success indeed. Others assisting were Bruce Stevens, Glen Mohr and the Sunday school orchestra, consisting of Swana Olfson, Bernice Rosa, Victoria Kirkovsky, Connie Morgan, Ruth Wilkinson, Walter Johnson and Victor Thomas. Mrs. A. Wilson presided at the organ in a very appropriate rendering of old time hymns on the Sunday morning scene. Miss Barrie was at hand when the prompter's services were required.

Following is the cast:
William Henry Tibbs—Earl Barrie.
Mary Alice Tibbs—Miss Cathie Irvine.
Rebecca Jane Tibbs—Mrs. Russell Graham.
Eliza Anne Tibbs—Mrs. John Manson.
Aunt Susan—Miss Isabel Haddock.
Guy De Marchmont Cogg—Frank Vickers.

Mrs. Johnstone Highborn—Mrs. Howard Steen.
Mrs. Sarah Tuggs—Mrs. J. S. Black.
Miss Matilda Wizer—Mrs. George Wilkinson.
Senator Samuel Smith—Bert Vandewater.

Caroline—Mrs. W. B. Cornish.
Stage furniture by Barrie's Home Furnishings.

LIFE OF LORD NELSON TO BE SHOWN IN FILM

Big Feature Opening Tonight—Triumph of Moving Picture Art

Approved by the British admiralty, who actively assisted in its production, and acclaimed enthusiastically by naval authorities here, such as Commander Rose, R.N., and President Sam Harris of the Navy League, there will shortly be shown a British picture entitled "Nelson," which should convince the picture fans finally that Britain can produce pictures as good as the best.

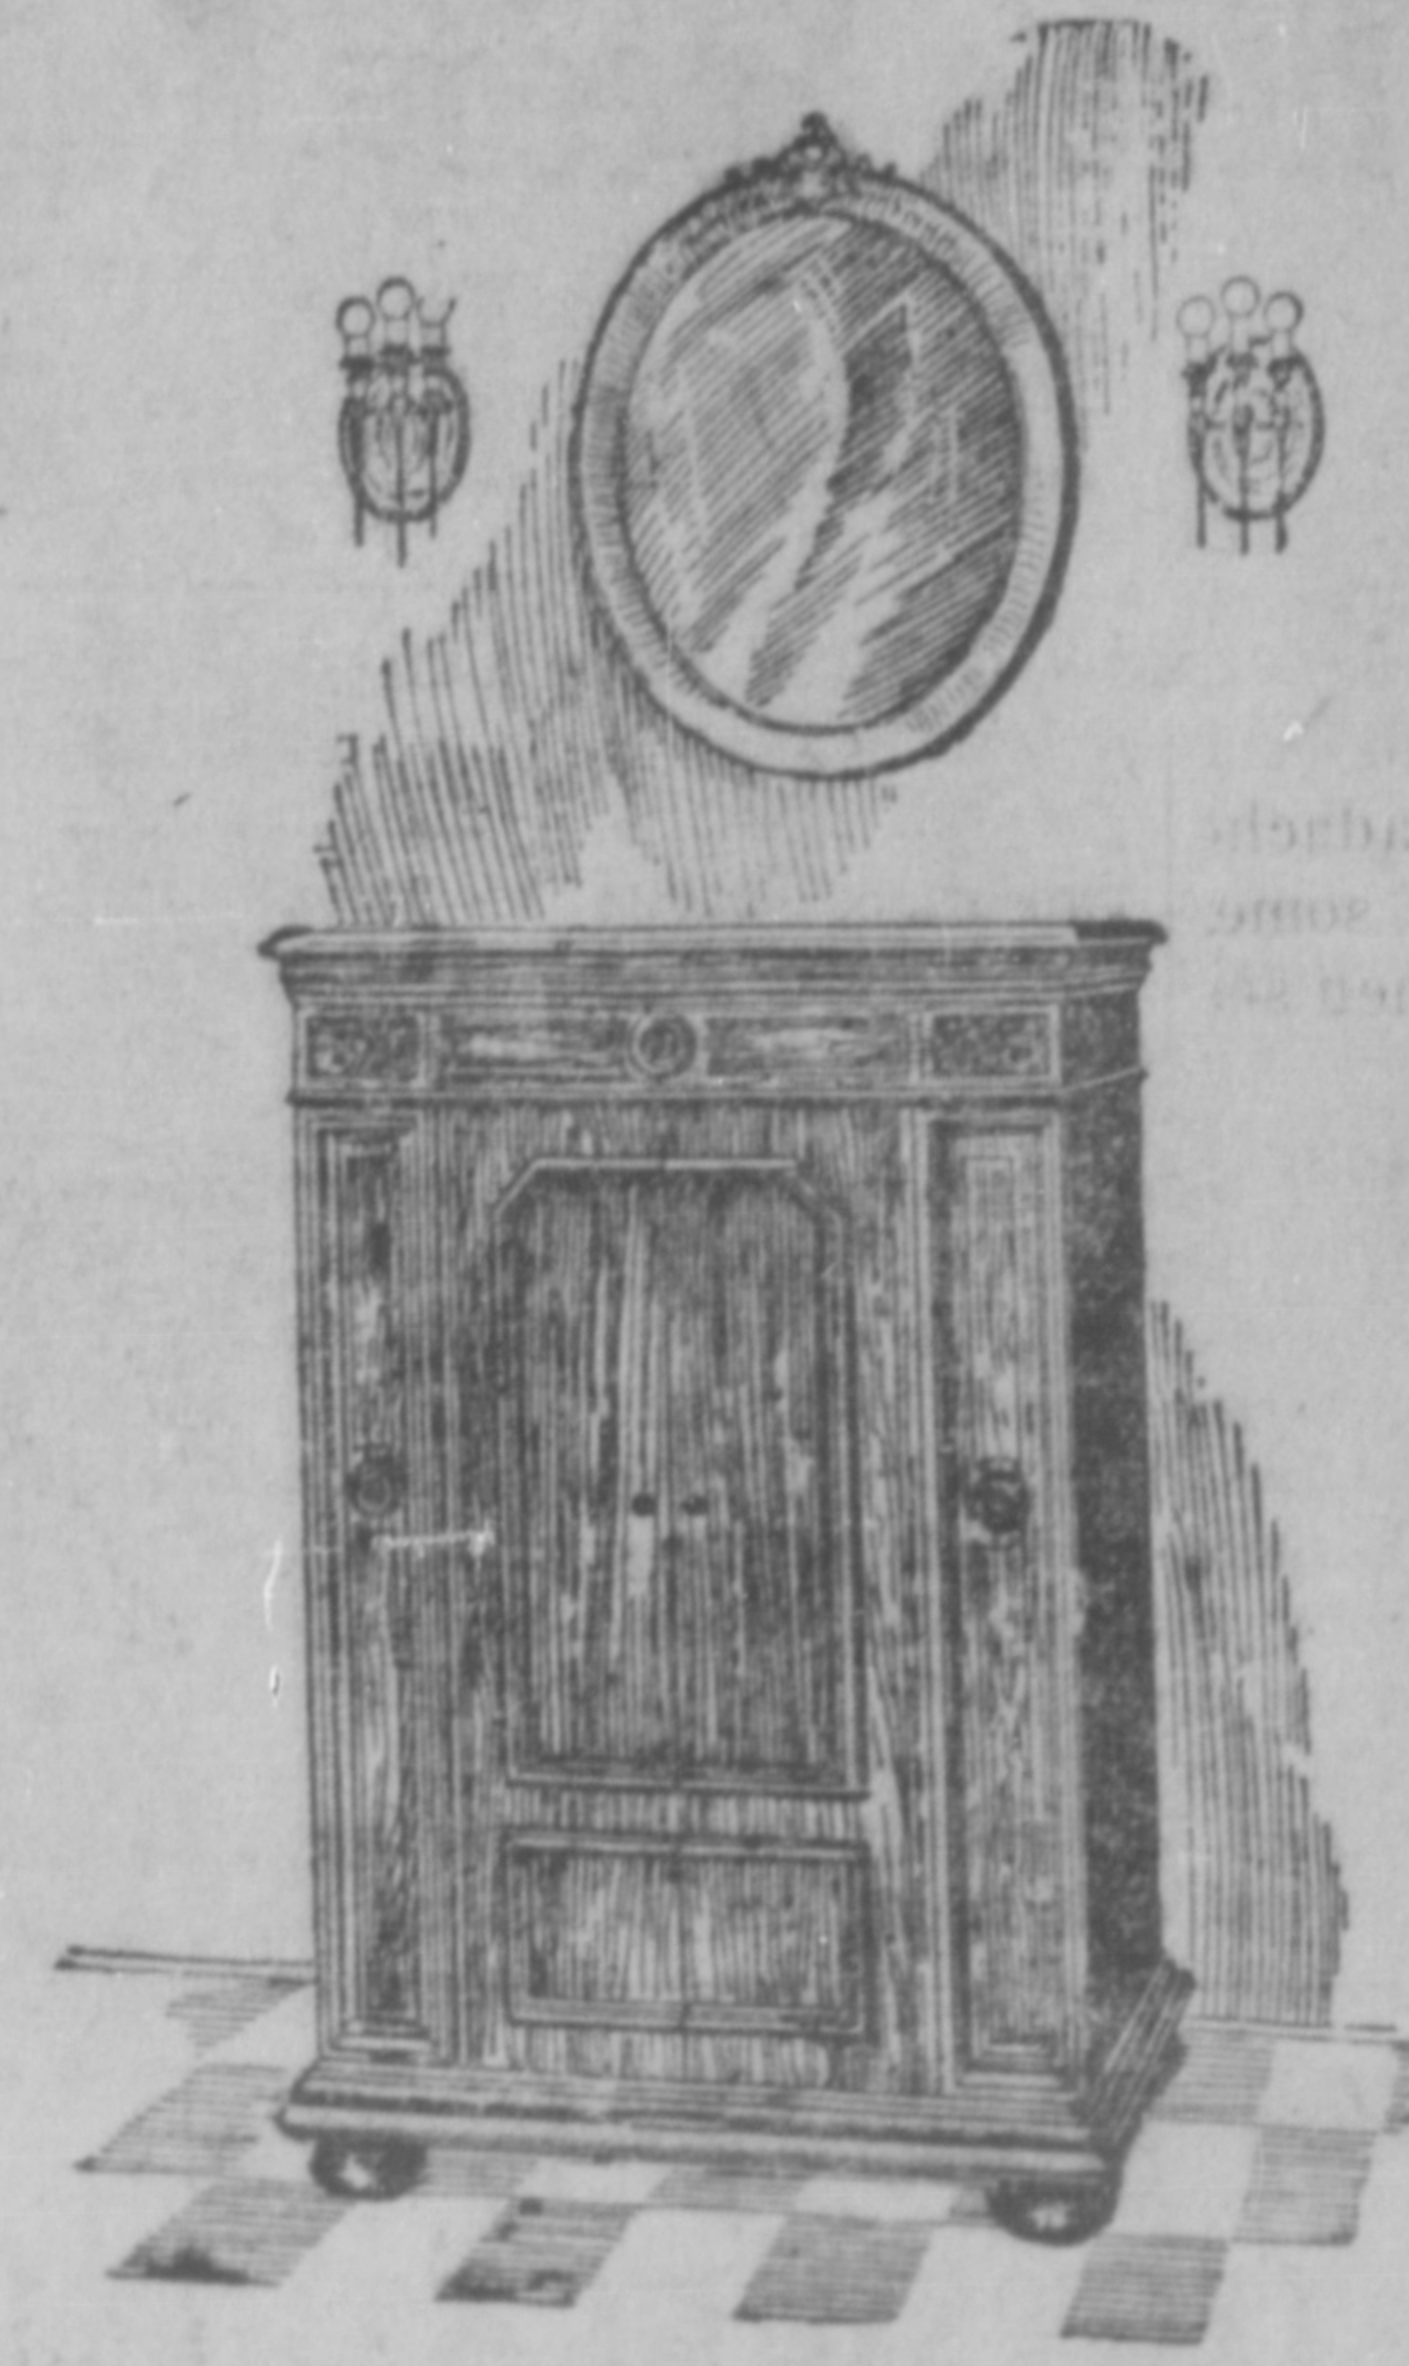

Nelson is probably the most vivid and dramatic personality in the pages of British history. Certainly he is the outstanding naval hero, and it is around his life that this epic of the greatest era of the British navy has been constructed.

The characterization of Nelson by Cedric Hardwicke is one which will live in the minds of all who see the picture. The frail physique, the indomitable spirit and courage, the intense human sympathy, the simple piety of the man are all traced by Mr. Hardwicke with marvellous understanding and clearness.

Linked by this characterization, a succession of thrilling naval incidents in which he played the leading part have been filmed, leading up to the spectacular climax of Trafalgar. The battle scenes with the huge wooden vessels locked in titanic struggles are packed with amazingly vivid episodes of the fighting.

Over all the triumph hangs the shadow of the death of the victor and the way in which the emotions of poignant grief and tremendous joy have been shown in an outstanding illustration of intelligent production.

The spirit of England in those anxious times when only her wooden walls stood between her and disaster, and the spirit of the men who fought in them, come to life on the screen.

The settings also have been carefully chosen. In the filming of the picture three of the old vessels, the "Victory," the "Implacable" and the "Foudroyant" were used by permission of the British admiralty.

Nor has the domestic and romantic side of Nelson been neglected. His unhappy married life, and his meeting and love for the brilliant Lady Hamilton softly illuminate the background of his strenuous life. Altogether it is a picture which marks a new era in British film introduction. The "New Era" incidentally is the name of the corporation which has made the production—Toronto Star.
