CO-OPERATION IN INDUSTRIES

Part of Report of Liberal Industrial Inquiry Sets Forth Views Regarding New Scheme

LONDON, March 7.—Part of the report of the Liberal Industrial Inquiry just published deals with a scheme of co-operation which is set forth as follows:

It is the aim of the Liberal policy to bring about the establishment in every industry of a representative regulating body, including both employers and workers, for the consideration of common interests and endowed with the power of obtaining, under proper safeguards, legal sanction for their agreements.

This involves (a) the improvement of existing negotiating machinery; (b) the provision of adequate knowledge of the financial facts; and (c) the provision of better machinery for central guidance, particularly by the creation of a Ministry of Industry, including the powers of the present Ministry of Labor, and of a representative Council of Industry working in close association with the Ministry.

Her Three Boys Had Terrible Colds That Hung On

Mrs. G. Ames, 35 St. George Street, Chatham, Ont., writes:—"Last winter my three boys had terrible colds and a cough that hung on so long that it began to worry me.

"I went to my druggist and he asked me if I had tried

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

"I told him I had not, but that I would, and I must say that after they had finished the third bottle they were entirely rid of the cough.

negotiating with the Ministry.

NEGOTIATING BODIES

It is desirable that negotiating bodies should include a neutral element, without the power to vote except when legal powers are sought; and also in many cases representative of managerial and technical staffs for consultative purposes on subjects other than wage-negotiations. Any difficulties affecting the demarcation between organized industries should, when necessary, be referred to the Council of Industry.

TRADE BOARDS

We recommend that the Trade Boards system should be extended to all industries insufficiently organized to be able to make and keep general agreements; that such Trade Boards should, as now, be constituted by the Ministry and should have power to fix minimum wage rates enforceable by criminal process; that is the fixation of wage-rates above the minimum and of other conditions, neutral members of Trade Boards should be entitled to speak, but not to vote, unless legal enforcement was sought; that in such cases enforcement should be by way of civil, not criminal, process, and that all regulations for which legal force is sought should be laid before the Council of Industry for review before being endorsed or disallowed by the Ministry.

JOINT INDUSTRIAL COUNCILS

Joint Industrial Councils should be encouraged to include in their membership (a) a neutral element and (b) where appropriate, representatives of technical and managerial staffs; but this should be at their discretion. We recommend that Joint Industrial Councils should be empowered to obtain legal sanction for their agreements subject to the following conditions:—

- (a) The proposal for which legal sanction is sought should have been supported by a majority on both sides.
- (b) Any sections of the industry not represented on the Council should have been given an opportunity of presenting their views.
- (c) Neutral members should have taken part in the discussion and voting.
- (d) The Council should be able to show, in making application for the enforcement of wage rates or conditions, that undesirable low wage-rates or bad conditions are prevalent in some sections of the industry, and that the rates or conditions proposed to be enforced are not markedly above or below those ruling for occupations of corresponding skill in other industries.
