FOUND SPEAKS OF FISHERIES

Deputy Minister Guest at Rotary Club Where He Gives Brief Address

At the Rotary Luncheon yesterday afternoon a brief address was given by W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, under the federal government. Mr. Found spoke of the asset Canada had in her fisheries. It was valued at $50,000,000 a year. There was invested in the industry $60,000,000 and it employed 75,000 people. When fish were sold it was so much added to the wealth of the country.

Mr. Found spoke of the difference between the fisheries of the Atlantic and Pacific. On this coast there was a narrow continental shelf all along the coast, which produced the greatest halibut fisheries in the world. The rivers coming direct from the mountains were particularly suited for salmon. It was an exceptional situation, and the department at Ottawa was fully alive to the necessity for conservation.

The fisheries on the Atlantic were quite different. There was a large fishing area and conditions were little changed from what they were hundreds of years ago.

Mr. Found went back and spoke of the history of the industry, noting that even in Jerusalem one of the gates of the city was named fish gate. In the eighties a new step in advance was taken in the development of railway transportation and improved methods of distributing the fish. Refrigeration was then invented and with it came the application of steam to trawlers. The other board was an improvement on the old beam trawl and the internal combustion engine brought the fisheries to what they were today.

WEIRD ROMANCE AT THE CAPITOL

"Grip of the Yukon" with Mysterious Beautiful Girl Playing Lone Hand

A photoplay as gripping as its title and as soul-searing as life is "The Grip of the Yukon" showing tonight and Saturday at the new Capitol.

Frances X. Bushman in the leading dramatic role gives a portrayal that brings a catch in the throat and tears to the eyes. In the tragic role of a Yukon miner, who is the sole survivor of an icy catastrophe, which carries away the only people he loves, Bushman gives a powerful and deep delineation.

The story itself is unusual and spectacular. June Marlowe and Neil Hamilton inject a powerful and romantic theme into the picture. Both play their roles splendidly.

FINAL PERFORMANCE BY MADGE RUSH FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Miss Madge Rush, Premier Danseuse, who has been so popular with Capitol Theatre patrons during the past two weeks will conclude her local engagement Saturday night. This clever dance artiste, with her varied repertoire of delightful dance numbers, her brilliant costumes and her pleasing personality will be missed by local lovers of the terpsichorean art and her final offering on Friday and Saturday of "Oriental Syncopation" will conclude a most successful engagement.
