LATE EDWARD MICHAUD WAS PRO-PAGATOR OF SKEENA WONDER STRAWBERRY

of the late Edward Michaud, to whom death came very suddenly while at work at Usk on Thursday morning, the Terrace district has lost another of its early pioneers and much respected citi-

The late Mr. Michaud was born in Denver, Colorado, about sixty-two years ngo. From there he went to Libby, Montana, where he spent his early life. In 1904 he and his brother Fred came north and came by canoe up the Skeena river as far as Little Canyon where they disembarked and decided to settle. They took up land in the akelse Valley, their home being the secend one to be built on that side of the

During the twenty-four years spent in the district the deceased man has spent much of his time prospecting, ranching and gardening, the last named of which he was very fond and with his brothers has been successful in propagating a number of fruits-particularly the
