TAX REDUCTION WELCOME

Tax reductions are always welcome. Just now it is the income tax in which relief is seen. First comes the Dominion government to a private table in the corner of the with a ten per cent reduction and now this is followed by a ten great dining hall, where I had my first per cent provincial reduction. Apparently the MacLean government feels it can carry on during the coming year, slightly increase the evidently relying upon the prospect of expenditures on public works and at the same time cut the taxes, an elaborate banquet to make us feel We are glad to know they can do it. If they can lop it again a little at home, and to get us gastronomically next year we shall all applaud them.

MCRAE SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL

General McRae has a plan for land settlement on a huge scale which he thinks would prove successful. It is not for us to criticize tric juice and the conversation. it even if we think he is a little over- optimistic in regard to the cost of clearing land and erecting buildings.

General McRae deserves credit for offering something con- tion, with Jones, a librarian, taking the structive instead of the usual destructive criticism of the govern- lead. ment. Doubtless he has investigated well before springing the plan on the country and if it should prove workable and desirable we it is possible for a professional man or shall be only too glad to support it. We are very glad to see a good a small salary to supplement his earn-Conservative proposal, provided always that it is a good one. We which might yield him more say, than shall probably know more about it when we get more of the details first mortgages?" of the plan. If it is not workable the General will have at any rate shown a willingness to help the government do something in connection with land settlement.

CITY MANAGER PLAN

The city manager plan of government, inaugurated in three minor American cities in 1912, has spread across the country in the day by purely artificial pressures and subsequent 15 years until today 30 city manager municipalities dot only those who are on the inside have the American map.

"The plan has been received with approval nearly everywhere the eye every time." that it has received a fair trial," says Clinton Rogers Woodruff, authority on civil government, who brings out these facts in a survey presented in the March issue of the Review of Reviews.

Although the argument was made for many years that a nonpolitical management of city business would not be as applicable to Walderf salad. Each order was rendermajor cities as to smaller communities, Mr. Woodruff points out that ed like a motif in a lullaby, when Cleveland, the country's sixth largest city, and also Cincinnati, Kan-Black, an anaesthetist, broke silenc sas City and Indianapodis now have given the plan a thorough trial for the first time with a query: with evident success.

Particularly he cites the success of Cola Clarence O. Sherrill, people on the inside track. CITES EVIDENCE OF SUCCESS

The success of the city manager plan, Mr. Woodruff shows, is "That's quite possible. You hap- special meat but he seemed to have find his level and when he finds it he most clearly shown by the fact that the plan is being adopted most pened to buy at the right time. You rapidly in the regions where it is best known. Four out of every might have lost it all had you bought five city charters drafted at present embody the plan, he finds.

For example, it was adopted in Dayton in 1913, and now 16 Ohio cities have it. It got an early start in three small cities in But the great fortunes are made out Michigan, and now 35 Michigan cities have adopted it. The plan, which usually calls for the engagement of a city executive on a strictly business basis by an elective council, will spread even more rapidly within the next few years, Mr. Woodruff's

Review of Reviews article predicts. "A number of cities voted to adopt the plan at the November ings in one of his financial undertak-Elections and Rochester elected its first group of councilmen under ings.
