FALSE INFORMATION

A jocular remark made by a visitor to Alaska seems to have caused the promulgation of false information, especially in the south. Here is the foolish editorial which appeared in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, a Hearst newspaper:

"It is disquieting to learn that seven-eighths of the vast halibut taken in the past season went to market through a Canadian port and over Canadian railways. Of 4,000,000 pounds, Prince Rupert received 3,500,000, while Ketchikan, in United States territory, handled but a half million pounds.

"This is accounted for by the fact that fishermen are invited to the Canadian port by the legal status of liquor. It is not to be expected that the eighteenth amendment will be abrogated or the Volstead law modified to restore Ketchikan to its old position of supremacy in Alaskan fisheries. Nevertheless, the slump is serious in its effect upon that city, and the diversion of fish results in no little loss of revenue to American railways. Shrinkage in trade will also be felt in Seattle.

"Since the business men of Ketchikan cannot offer fishermen the cup that cheers, some thoughts ought to be given to other inducements which will bring a backswing in the halibut trade. In this Seattle's best minds may be able to help.

"Seattle's interests have vastly broadened since the day when the city depended so much upon Alaskan trade. But it is still an important and highly valued part of our commerce, and our leaders may be depended upon to aid in any manner which will advance the interests of the great northern territory."

THE ANSWER

To begin with the four million pounds shipped would be in a month and not in a year. This statement indicates ignorance of the situation.

In the second place there has been no shrinkage of business in Alaska but the tendency is rather the other way. Alaska never had the halibut business so Prince Rupert could not have taken it from her.

In the third place those who wish liquor can get it in Alaska almost as well as in Prince Rupert but not with the authority of the government. While it is admitted that tourists often come to this side of the line for a bottle of Scotch, the attraction of legalized liquor is not anything like as great as was expected. So far as the fishermen coming here, the liquor attraction is negligible or non-existent. The men come here to sell their fish because they can get a good price.

WORRIED AT P.G.E.

When the Conservative party went out of power and left the Liberals a legacy of trouble in the partly constructed P.G.E. no one thought it would become a campaign issue twelve years after. However, it is still with us and the problem of selling is practically solved. Some final details have to be worked out and this is worrying Hon. S. F. Tolmie, who is at last in the province from Ottawa, trying to find an excuse for opposing the present government. He finds a new name for the P.G.E. deal at every meeting he addresses.

Meanwhile negotiations are still proceeding and may possibly be cleared up before the election. If not, it is pretty sure the deal will be completed so as to be submitted to the next session of the Dominion Parliament.

TRAIL RANGERS AND BOY SCOUTS LEAVING FOR SHAWATLANS CAMP

United Church Trail Rangers, under Rev. A. Wilson and Earl Barrie, Baptist Boy Scouts, under P. C. Miller, and Presbyterian Scouts, under Ben Ferguson, the whole group numbering some thirty or so boys, left this afternoon aboard George Rorie's powerboat Nancy for the upper end of Shawatlans Lake where they will go into a twelve-day camp. Physical training, swimming and the usual camp life program will be engaged in. A temporary camp has been arranged for the boys.

EXCURSION TO TERRACE WAS SUCCESSFUL

OVER FIVE HUNDRED PEOPLE VISITED FRUIT CENTRE FOR THE HOLIDAY

Five hundred and twenty persons made the trip to Terrace on Sunday with the Canadian National Railway employees' annual picnic, the third annual excursion proving a marked success in every respect.

The special train of holiday makers left Prince Rupert at 7.30 a.m. with the Boys' Band playing in the mountain observation car. Hot dogs were soon in demand and found a ready sale among those who had partaken of little breakfast before setting out. There was also a great business in ice cream, pop and candy. Employees and friends were picked up at cannery points and stations enroute and the train arrived at Terrace at 11.05. Many cars and lorries were on hand and a large crowd of Terrace people greeted the train on arrival.

The day at Terrace proved to be a warm one. The band played to the crowd in the Terrace park where tea and coffee was provided. A baseball game between Prince Rupert and Terrace was exciting and well played. Prince Rupert winning by a score of 11 to 8. Herbie and Loblick were Prince Rupert pitchers with Spiro and Dido Gurvich catchers. Fred Scott pitched for Terrace. Several times the teams were tied. A tug-of-war and races rounded out the afternoon's program and many of the picnickers took advantage of cheap trips to Kitsumkalum and Lakeelse Lakes.

After supper, the Boys' Band played selections on the main street where the clowns provided plenty of fun for the crowds. Dancing on the station platform provided amusement for many, music being by a five piece orchestra.

The train, which had gone on to Pacific to turn around and take on water, etc., left Terrace on time and, during the journey home, oranges were distributed to the youngsters and cups of tea with biscuits to the ladies. The train was back in Prince Rupert at 11.35 p.m. after a memorable day of enjoyment.

R. T. J. Rose was chairman of the general committee in charge with F. Rogers secretary and F. F. Steeves, treasurer. Jack Campbell was chairman of the sports committee and in charge of refreshments was a committee consisting of A. E. Dickens, chairman; J. Bond Jr., Percy Bond, S. Marshall, J. Strachan, William Swinger, J. A. Teng, Ray Scherk, J. Geddes and A. Guyan. The orchestra consisted of J. Bond Jr., H. Gawthorn, B. Blackall and others.

R. F. McNaughton, district passenger agent, and Walter Smith of the city ticket office, gave able assistance in making arrangements for the trip.

DOMINION DAY DANCE SUCCESS

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY PERSONS ATTENDED FUNCTION IN MOOSE HALL LAST NIGHT

A successful dance in the Moose Hall last night, with a crowd of some 250 persons in attendance, brought the annual Dominion Day celebration, under the auspices of the Native Sons of Canada, to a fitting conclusion. Tune-some music was furnished by Miss Irene Morrison's orchestra; Gillis Royer was master of ceremonies, and Jack Morrison and Fred Riffon presided at the door. Refreshments were served at midnight, the dance being in progress from 9 p.m. to 2.30 a.m.

AUDIENCE MERRY AT SOWING WILD OATS

Colleen Moore Last Night Produced Plenty of Laughs in Her Picture

The holiday audience that saw the first showing of Colleen Moore's "Her Wild Oat" laughed until its respective sides threatened to fracture with the strain put upon them.

Colleen's "Wild Oat" produced tons of snickers, giggles, laughs and honest-to-goodness roars. When, posing as a duchess in an exclusive coast resort hotel, she impersonates her own maid—with the aid of pillow upholstering force and aft—the audience shrieked.
The naive efforts of the little waitress to "join in" with the frigid "four hundred" provide some of the best comedy touches. When she politely suggests to the dowager that the bridge game be made five-handed in order that everyone might take part, the number of bridge fiends in the theatre was indicated by the response.

The story, briefly, tells the tale of a day-dreaming little waitress in a lunch wagon, filled with a desire to taste the thrill of being in the social whirl, and of her unsuccessful efforts to be taken seriously when she tries to do it. The result is failure, a headache, a handful of bills, the visiting of large bodies of indignant creditors, and a return to the lunch counter.

DRAMATIC OUTDOOR PICTURE OF LIFE IN THE SWISS ALPS

The highly dramatic love drama laid against a background of the Swiss Alps, "Body and Soul" from the pen of Katharine Newlin Burt, published in book form as "The Branding Iron," has been made into a colorful motion picture by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and will be seen here tomorrow. As a novel it was read by millions and was translated into half a dozen languages. Reginald Barker, famous for his direction of out-of-door pictures, directed "Body and Soul," and is said to have made one of the most dramatic stories the screen has ever furnished the world of picturegoers.

"WHAT PRICE GLORY" HERE AT WEEK-END

Human Drama With Plenty of Humor Interspersed is Well Known Picture

Human drama, pathos and love, that is "What Price Glory." It is a gripping story of a conflict told with startling realism. Raoul Walsh, the director of the picture, has kept faith with the authors, for he has, with uncanny skill, translated these humans to the screen, not mere picture puppets, but pulsating men and women who live and breathe, laugh and cry, fight and love—a veritable maelstrom of emotions.
There is the background of the war, of course, but "What Price Glory" emerges on the screen as an epic of laughs behind the lines.
Here is a drama of life, fierce and ugly, beautiful and rapturous, and the whole, etched with bits of comedy, so naturally funny that it wakes the risibilities to a newer and finer sense of humor. It is behind the lines that we meet the hard boiled Captain Flag, the picturesque campaigner, Sergeant Quirt, the Beau Brummell of the Marines, and Charmaine, as captivating a French damsel as any two men could fight over. She loves both men. To her they are Yankee-land's finest and bravest warriors, who are ready to fight to death for her favor. About such human, characteristic figures does this dramatic comedy of the screen evolve.

At noon tomorrow, he will address the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at an open luncheon and will proceed south later in the week.

Man in the Moon

The meek inherit the earth, but who wants the earth. I should prefer a car just now, if you ask me.

Al Smith is now up against Herbert Hoover. Smith is a wet candidate with a dry platform so what chance has the Republicans?

He went into a restaurant
Ate everything in sight
And when he left he found himself
In a sad and sorry plight.

Down in the states after a tornado a man stepped on a live wire in a puddle and was killed. There are a lot of live wires in Prince Rupert that it's dangerous to step on. Just watch out.

Men get used to being ordered around. First they get it from their mothers, then from their wives and then from their daughters.

Just as regular as day and night, rent and taxes, come the instalments on the car. And the instalments have to be paid.
