Man in the Moon

Beneath this stone lies a noble man,
Who once was a pedestrian.

English is a queer language and the British are a queer people. Jake says I'm the queerest guy of all.

The sky is blue
When the weather is bright
But when I'm blue
I'm down out of sight.

I rather like that schoolgirl complexion but I prefer it dotted with a few freckles.

I'm a great philosopher. I can be cheerful no matter if my neighbor has a toothache.

Santa Claus is reported to have cut off his beard in order to keep up to date and his wife has one of those boyish bobs that look so cute.

Ten Years Ago

November 29 1918

The Mullen Construction Co. is making arrangements to build both steel and wooden ships at the local dry dock. J. H. Pillsbury, superintendent of the yard, announces that stock taking will commence in the near future preparatory to the taking over of the plant by the American concern.

C. H. Gibbons, well known Victoria newspaperman, writes that Sir Richard McBride died of a broken heart in London, deserted and pauperized, the victim of treacherous political associates.

The funeral will take place tomorrow of Herbert S. Woods, well known local railway employee, who is dead of influenza.
