Sport Chat

"I like almost all the American league clubs this year and I look for a wonderful race. I do not anticipate a two-club fight such as we had last year. I could not see Detroit last season because they had a lot of sickness and their players did not play up to standard. But Bucky Harris is a great manager and I would not be surprised to see him develop the Tigers into a great team. My club should do very well. The public may be expecting a lot of us and I hope we don't disappoint them. My idea, however, is to give the public good baseball and let the matter of winners and losers take care of itself."

Provincial Constable Robert Gibson Left This Morning to Investigate Report

Provincial Constable Robert Gibson of district headquarters staff went up to the reduction plant of the Rupert Marine Products in Tucks Inlet this morning to investigate a report that a Chinaman had disappeared from there last night. The Oriental is reported to have gone out with a gun last evening, having not been seen since.

Constable Gibson returned to town this afternoon, stating that he could find no trace of the missing man. His name is Wong Gong and he was about fifty years of age, having been cook at the reduction plant for about two years.

He had been acting strangely of late and last evening about 6:45 left the cook house with a single barrelled shot gun, going in the direction of the bush. He had no rain clothes. The bush has not yet been thoroughly searched.
