HUGE GROUND SHARK ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Ten Foot Monster of the Deep on Display in Front of Store. Many Other Varieties.

There was great interest shown down town last evening in front of Frizzell's meat shop where a large ground shark reposed on the sidewalk. It was quite dead but it was with some reluctance that some of the passersby stepped up and touched the flabby monster. It measured a full ten feet from tip of tail to snout. A large fleshy creature it was which quivered all over when touched. Its opened mouth showed two sets of teeth and when the jaws were spread a human being would have fitted very neatly between them. Sharks are not at all uncommon and the fishermen in hauling their skates often get one caught on a hook and in its struggle to get away it twists itself into the gear. Then they have to cut the fish clear of all the lines and it drops to the bottom dead.

In Frizzell's window there was a very interesting collection of smaller fish such as the dog fish, grey cod, rock cod, bass, etc. There was a particularly fine large skate which nearly covered the whole window. Funny creatures they all were from the brightly colored starfish and the ugly little rat fish to the large and lazy ground shark.

YACHT DOLAURA WAS IN PORT YESTERDAY

Was Formerly Owned by James Dunsmuir, Now Property of American Millionaire.

Early yesterday afternoon the palatial steam yacht Dolaura arrived in port, having called in here on the way north to Skagway. The yacht which was formerly owned by James Dunsmuir, the Vancouver Island coal baron, left Esquimalt a few days ago for Seattle and picked up her new owner, Arthur Meeker, a millionaire of Chicago. He brought his own complement of stewards from Chicago. All the members of the crew are very tidily attired with sweaters and caps marked "Victoria," which is the new name of the vessel under Canadian registry.

The Dolaura which is acknowledged to be one of the finest yachts on the Pacific coast, was fitted out with wireless in Seattle. It will take about a month to make the round trip and on her return south the party will disembark at Seattle, the boat going round to New York via the Panama Canal. Here she will be fitted out as an oil burner and it is the intention to sail to Europe next year.

Captain Jacobsen who has spent many years aboard private yachts is in command, while Lieutenant Shepherd is first mate, and Capt. Hawes, a local mariner, is second mate. Chief Engineer A. W. Graves who came out with the ship from the old country, still reigns supreme in the engine room.

NELL SHIPMAN IN GREAT PRODUCTION

It was a stirring, swift-moving drama of the big woods that was shown last night at the Empress Theatre and will be repeated to-night. Especial interest centres in Barea, half wolf and half dog, protegee, protector, and finally the avenger of Nepeese.

Five malamute dogs ranging in age from a puppy to a full grown husky were used in the picture to impersonate Barea and they are astonishingly intelligent. Lovers of dogs or of a good drama will want to see this picture.

MILITARY RIOTS AT LUTON, ENGLAND

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Luton, England, July 22.—The military forces restored order after rioting on Saturday which culminated in the burning of the city hall. The trouble began when the demobilized soldiers protested during a local peace parade against the mayor's refusal to grant the use of the public park for a meeting in which pensions grievances were to be discussed.

The demonstrators burned the town hall and wrecked several shops. Many persons were injured.
