

Man in the Moon

The minister of finance will get you if you don't watch out.

Some people have fame thrust upon them and others are elected to office in fraternal organizations.

The meek inherit the earth and their wives manage it for them.

Perhaps after all men are not descended from apes. If they are they must have descended quite a way.

Jack says apes' noses are not pointed enough to thrust into other people's business.

What I'm wondering about is when I shall be able to start saving coal.

What Prince Rupert needs just now is a little more money and a little less talk, especially political talk.

Steel is now being shipped from Nova Scotia for use in construction of the ocean going freighters at the local dry dock.

The price on the local retail market today for butter is 65c and 70c a pound while new laid eggs are bringing 70c per dozen.

Akerberg & Thompson are moving their machine shop business from its present location on First Avenue to premises adjacent to the government wharf which they have leased.

Ball-Bearing Motors

The life of a motor is the life of its insulation. Hard brittle insulation, especially if oil soaked, sends motors to the repair shop or to the scrap pile.

Fairbanks-Morse ball bearing motors require greasing only once a year and eliminate oil soaked windings, oil spotted products, oil slop on the floor and the cost of oil and oiling.
