HIKED OVER NAAS TRAIL

Bob Irvine Was Very Anxious to Get Home for Labor Day Sports

Bob Irvine, who spent the summer vacation in the Naas River district with a Power Corporation of Canada survey party, was so anxious to attend the Labor Day sports here yesterday that he hiked seventy miles by himself from Aiyansh to Terrace last week in order to do so. He had missed a boat down the Naas River from Aiyansh, so the only alternative to get here on time was to walk to Terrace, so that ne started to do.

Leaving Aiyansh last Thursday, the lad reached Terrace on Saturday. He had had permission to enter telegraph cabins and put up en route. He came in to the city from Terrace on Sunday afternoon's train in time for the sports. He will resume studies at the local high school.

There are nine Special Ceremonies Enjoyed Greatsummer cottages in three groups, each having its own beach, and some of them only occupied intermittently during the season. Mr. have been residing there continuously for several months and all their personal belongings have been destroyed.

> Of actually unknown origin, but probably from a spark from the box, it was a matter of seconds until the cottage was blazing furiously. Mrs. Bond and her two chiliren had to run and Mr. Bond was unable to get very much out of the house before he was driven out, too, by the great heat. All the men folks from the other camps came with buckets and were able to confine the blaze to the one cottage. Jack Bond's cottage was only 20 feet away, but, by copious wettings, suffered no damage. Fortunately, the morning breeze did not spring up until an hour after, or, otherwise, both houses would have gone up in smoke.

Annual Labor Day Celebration Yesterday Was Great Success; Much Interest Taken In Races

Favored by weather which could not have been excelled upon, the Prince Rupert Trades & Labor Council made its annual Labor Day field day on Acropolis Hill grounds yesterday probably the most outstanding event of its kind ever held in Prince Rupert. The program was in progress throughout the day and there was keen competition and large entry lists in every event on the card, which included a fine program of children's and women's sports, as well as the senior field sports in the afternoon.

Among the outstatnding events was the pole vault, which Alex Walters won by a long margin with a height of eight feet two inches. The 100-yard dash was won by J. B. --
