Engine of Takla Gives Way and Eighteen Players Drifted in Portland Inlet

SAFE AT ARRANDALE

Eighteen Prince Rupert men basketball players, bound home from Anyox, where they have been playing a series of games, added another experience to those of the trip yesterday, when the halibut ooat Takla, Capt. John Olsen, on which they are travelling, had an engine breakdown off the mouth of the Naas River and drifted around in Portland Inlet for some time, while all on board offered the best of their persuasion and sagacity to get the motor started again, but without success. Coastwike Steamship & Barge Co.'s freighter Amur, bound from Stewart to Anyox, passed by, and seeing the plight of the Takla, gave out a line and towed the disabled wessel to Kincolith, where further efforts are being made to repair the engine.

News of the incident was received yesterday afternoon by wireless from the Amur.
