Only Captain and Telegrapher Saved When Vessel Was Struck by Larger Sub Near Fisguard, Off Coast of Pembrokeshire, Wales

LONDON, July 9.—British submarine H-47 with 21 members of her crew are believed to be dead, trapped within her when she sank today in 270 feet of water in St. George's Channel, off the Pembroke coast to the west of Fisguard.

The vessel was struck by submarine L-12, a larger vessel, and sank so quickly that only two of her crew were saved, Lieutenant R. J. Gardner, commanding officer, and Sidney Cloburne of Devonport, telegraph operator, who were presumably in the conning tower.

The L-12 lost one man, Charles Edward Bull, chief signaller, who is missing, whi'e Arthur Sampson, a seaman, is in a critical condition from injuries received at the time of the impact.

Both vessels were built under the emergency war program of 1916.

The admiralty announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that no hope could be entertained for the remainder of the crew of the H-47 being rescued a ive.

LONDON, July 9.—The main point in the mind of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, minister of employment, as he prepares for his forthcoming visit to Canada is to discover whether semething cannot be done to find work for British people, not by wholesale migration, but by providing more work for them in England through the development of Canadian enterprises which would require British materials and manufactures. This was made apparent as Mr. Thomas and Lord Passfield, formerly Sidney Webb, secretary for the deminions, had an informal talk at the dominions office te'ay with visiting Canadian newspaper owners and edi-
