LET 'ER GO, GALLEGHER

Story of Newspaper Life Shown On Screen at Westholme Tonight

To a reporter, there is no duty greater than he owes his newspaper. No matter how dangerous his task, or how self-sacrificing the deed, the reporter of a newspaper invariably is a slave to duty.

This is essentially the theme of "Let 'er Go, Gallegher!" the Richard Harding Davis narrative of newspaper life in which a bright office boy plays the stellar role, Junior Coghlan, who was featured in "The Country Doctor," "The Yankee Clipper" and "A Harp in Hock," is seen in the title role and Harrison Ford is cast as a reporter, around whom the love interest centres. Their portrayals, it is said, are excellent.

Supervised by Ralph Block, associate producer at the De Mille Studio, and prepared for the screen by Elliot Clawson, also a prominent newspaper man, "Let 'er Go, Gallegher!" is one of the most exact stories of "the fourth estate" ever filmed. It will be shown at the Westholme tonight. Elmer Clifton, who directed "The Wreck of the Hesperus," was the director, Elinor Fair, Ivan Lebedeff and Wade Boteler are included in the cast of supporting players.

NEW SERIAL AT THE WESTHOLME

"The Masked Menace" is Mystery Story to Begin Today

At the Westholme this afternoon and tonight the first showing is to be made of "The Masked Menace," the new ten chapter Patheserial adapted from Clarence Budington Kelland's Saturday Evening Post story, "Still Face."

Westminster, a New England lumber mill town, is the scene of the amazing, startling and enthralling story written in Mr. Kelland's most entertaining manner. There are two interesting things happen almost simultaneously—a stranger comes to town to live and sets tongues wagging because his beautiful face never moves; and Grandma Newton decides to attempt to recoup the family fortunes by running the old lumber mill again.

The stranger is known as "Still Face" and Grandma's petulant and spoiled granddaughter, Faith, objects to throwing what little money they have into the hopeless task of operating the mill. This attitude makes her naturally hateful to Keats Dodd, Grandma's chief support and a very nice young man whom Faith normally should have fallen in love with at sight. But, the insidious and mysterious "Still Face" interests her far more, which is dangerous!

MAYOR VOICES APPRECIATION

Brief Valedictory by Col. McMordie at Last Night's Council Meeting

"Inasmuch as this in all probability will be the last meeting of the 1928 council," said Mayor McMordie, in a brief valedictory last evening, "I would like at this time to convey to each and every member of the council, the city clerk, superintendent of utilities and other officials my hearty appreciation for their work during the past year, which has been one of the most important in the history of the city. Much important work has been done and many important matters settled. It may have been that at times we did not all agree, but I am sure that even our disagreements were taken in good part, and, let me say here, that I think each and every one of us always had the best interests of this city at heart. In my opinion, all have done their work well, and it is my desire to express deepest appreciation for the consideration and co-operation that has been at all times throughout the year extended to the mayor."

The mayor's remarks were greeted with a round of applause on the part of the aldermen. After the meeting members of the council were the guests of His Worship at the Prince Rupert Club.

Passengers sailing tonight on the Prince John for Queen Charlotte Island points will include: A. Bauman, Mrs. Herbert Hampton and Mrs. F. R. Richardson, for Port Clements, and John Bunting and R. Stafford, for Massett.

Canon W. F. Rushbrook Gave Interesting Lecture Last Night at St. Peter's Church

A large gathering last night in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Seal Cove, listened with rapt attention to an interesting two-hour discourse by Canon W. Rushbrook, who had long experience among Indians, on phases of native life, ancient and modern, in this district. The speaker dealt with the history of the aborigines and told of tribal customs, home life and modes of living now and in the past. Many interesting examples were given and curios and relics were shown in the way of illustrations. Legends between here and Metlakatla, which are illustrated by carvings at Canon Rushbrook also mentioned the rock carvings at Hastings Arm and "The Caves of Sickness."

There were hymns at the opening and closing of the lecture, proceeds of which will be applied to the fund for the purchase of equipment for St. Peter's Boys' Club gymnasium.

Was Bothered With Severe Headaches Is Not Troubled Now

Mrs. James Rossiter, Riverside, N.B., writes:—I was bothered with severe headaches, for years, and tried many different medicines, but to no effect. One day a friend told me about and after I had taken three bottles I found it had done me a world of good. Now I don't know what a headache is like. I certainly have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters.
