Canada Will Maintain Position in Spite of U. S. Tariff Declares Hon. Earnest Lapointe in Speech

If United States Makes It Difficult to Trade Then Business Must Go Elsewhere, Declares the Minister of Justice

GRAND BEND, Ont., June 20.—"Canada will maintain her trade position and if the United States makes it more difficult for Canadian trade, Canada will find other outlets and take the necessary means for that purpose," declared Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, in an address to a large crowd at the South Huron Liberal picnic here yesterday.

"We will continue to shape our policies on a national basis in the interest of all sections of Canada," the minister said. "We will legislate, not for one class, but for all classes and groups of the Canadian people."

Mr. Lapointe remarked that United States would still require Canadian products, tariff or no tariff. Mr. Lapointe opposed any suggestion that there should be reprisals by Canada against the United States tariff along the lines adopted by the United States. "We are satisfied with Canadian methods and doctrines and we will keep them," he said. "We will shape our policies, fiscal and otherwise, at Ottawa, and we will not take them from Washington."

Mr. Lapointe asserted that the Canadian Government did not propose to follow the United States tariff ideals. He made reference to repeated appeals which had been made to Ontario audiences during the present tour of R. B. Bennett, Dominion leader of the Conservative party, and to Mr. Bennett's attitude toward the action of the United States in increasing the tariffs against Canadian products. He said that the British preferential trade treaties had been part of the Government's policy.

OPINION DIFFERS ON BRITISH IMMIGRANT AS FARM SUCCESS

SASKATOON, June 20.—Interesting views on immigration gathered from various provinces were outlined in reports presented by two committee conveners—Mrs. F. B. Fadden, Huntington, B. C., and Mrs. John B. Owens, St. John, N. B., before the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada today. Speaking for the west, Mrs. Fadden said that while it was the feeling that British immigrants were wanted, yet Manitoba felt that the British immigrant was not so successful as farming as the foreigners who seem to succeed on the poorest land. Many Brits, she said, could not easily make a living on the land. Saskatchewan, on the other hand, had reported that English and Scotch soldier settlers are second to none, 80 per cent of the 650 families located there making good. The view had been expressed in some quarters that more immigration should come by way of the Canadian cradle.

FISHING ON SKEENA OPENS

Not Many Fish Taken First Night But All Canneries Ready to Receive Them

JAPANESE TOO EAGER

Eleven Hundred Is Limit of Boats Set For River This Year By Department

Fishing with sockeye nets became permissible last night at midnight and all the canneries in District No. 2 were ready to receive the silvery annual harvest of salmon for packing. Such meagre reports as were available from the Skeena River this morning indicated that the catches there were small though about the same size as usual on the opening day of the season. No reports were in up to noon from the Neas River or from other parts of the district. It will be Sunday night before the most of the fishermen start operations.

Four arrests were made by the department patrol in the district just before the opening of the season. Jap fishermen from Oceanic, Wales Island, Sunnyside and Claxton are alleged to have had their nets in the water about an hour before the opening.

There will be a 48-hour weekly close season this year from 6 o'clock Friday night until 6 p.m. Sunday. Should the number of licenses issued on the Skeena River exceed 1100, and there are not that number yet, there will be an additional twelve hours placed on the weekly close season.

Latest Thing in Modern Boat Construction Seen in the Vessels Built Locally and Going South

Two fine new sixty-six foot fish packers, built at the Prince Rupert drydock and combining the last word in modern construction and general efficiency, will leave at 11 o'clock tonight for Queen's Cove on the west coast of Vancouver Island, where they will go into commission for the Island Packing Co. as pilchard packers. The boats are named Ispaco I and Ispaco II and are commanded by Capt. Al Woie and Capt. Harry Berry, crews of seven men each having been signed on here this week to man the boats.

Yesterday both boats were given their trials and H. J. Bradbury, an official of the Island Packing Co., stated that he was highly pleased both with their workmanship and performance. Running at moderate speed, they both turned up eight and a half knots per hour with no difficulty. Each boat is equipped with a 75 Atlas Imperial full diesel engine. The aggregate cost of the two vessels was about $42,000.

If these boats prove satisfactory, as it is almost certain they will, Mr. Bradbury stated that his company might build more like them at the local yard next spring.

URGES SALE OF RAILWAY TO C. P. R.

Members of the Rotary Club today were rather startled out of their usual complacency to hear one of their members in an address advocate instead of the formation of a new province for northern B. C., the selling of the railway from Red Pass Junction to Prince Rupert to the Canadian Pacific Railway. Such action as this, he thought, would put new spirit into the people and would cure the ills of which the people of the north at present complained.

President Hoover is Said to be Seeking Tariff Modification

Feeling in Canada in Favor of Imperial Preference Causes United States Governmental Heads to Pause

TORONTO, June 20.—A despatch to the Toronto Star from its Ottawa correspondent says:

"It is credibly reported in Ottawa that President Hoover and his chief lieutenants are seeking to modify the tariff increases against Canada. The growth of Imperial trade sentiment in Canada as a means of combating these increases are said to have been reported to Washington by the United States legation here and the danger to United States trade with Canada emphasized. These reports are now common talk at Parliament Hill and may have accounted for the Dominion Government postponing action until the United States tariff proposals are stamped with finality.

"The initial steps in the Government's Imperial preference policy for the development of trade within the Empire will be brought down at the next session of Parliament. Details of the actual tariff revision are not yet worked out, but it is understood that ministers of the crown most interested in the subject will spend most of the summer and fall working on the subject.

"The cabinet on Tuesday had a desultory conversation on the subject, but went into no specific phases of the tariff revisions."
