

Man in the Moon

Considering what kind of world it is born in, is it any wonder a new born infant yells?

The most despicable person in the world is a Canadian wearing a monocle.

Civilization has nothing to fear except its own product.

It is good to know that you do not care who knows that you bought a new radio.

Chicago puts on a show every now and then for the rest of the nation but the latest beats all those that have gone before.

The rain is here again and Prince Rupert people are happy once more. It was a great deprivation to be without it so long.

I thank the Lord
Of joy and pain
Who once more deigns
To send us rain.
Once more we live
Our normal life
With no more frost
To cause us strife.

Man proposes; woman disposes.

Most things of value are kept snugly away from the crowd—Opinion for instance.

Jake says he got a tip the other day to buy some Silver Spot stock. He bought and lost about fifty dollars.

When my friend gives me a tip To buy and stock up well, I carry on in the same old way, And he can go to Timbuctoo.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

February 16, 1919
With 250 tons of the richest ore that has ever been shipped in British Columbia, the steamer Prince John arrived from Stewart today enroute to Tacoma smelter. The ore was from the famous Bush (now Premier) mine.

Great Britain lost 9,000,000 tons of shipping in the recent war. This was ten times as much as was lost by France or Italy and seventeen times more than the United States.

Was Tortured With Eczema For Years

Mrs. George Shambler, 119 Creighton St., Halifax, N.S., writes: "After being tortured with eczema, for years, and trying everything possible from doctors and drug stores, a friend recommended me to take

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

I sent my husband to get me a bottle, and after I had taken I noticed the cooling of my blood, so he advised me to continue, and after taking several bottles I can truly say it is a wonderful medicine."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

ONCE there were two men who kept shop. Both shopkeepers were in the same mode of business, but their methods differed widely. In fact it was only a matter of time, a short time, before one must close.

Now the other shopkeeper was different, he was prosperous. His store looked neat and clean, spruce, tidy and colorful, with a front that bespoke quality and service. Now this shopkeeper was a great community booster. His bid for patronage was based on selling his customers the products of his local industries first. He claimed that the industries in his locality employed men who earned wages, who spent wages, and kept others employed. His pet theory was, the more of Pat's mouse traps he sold the more Pat must make, and the more Pat would earn to buy goods from him, the wise shopkeeper. And so he succeeded and became prosperous and popular, and his philosophy and wise counsel spread rapidly.

Now, there's a moral to this story:

Every dollar paid for foreign made goods departs from your homeland never to return; but, each dollar exchanged for a B.C. product remains in British Columbia and quickly grows in value. It enriches industry, ensures employment and introduces prosperity into the homes of the workers.

This is the third advertisement of a series authorized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade in the interests of the manufacturers of British Columbia.
