RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT

(Victoria Colonist)

If the P.G.E. is to be extended into the territory north of the C.N.R. line to Prince Rupert, its present owners, and any others who may acquire it in future, should regard the opening up and development of that country by the Ca- Wheat Pool when it took over the nadian Northeastern as a great piece of good fortune.

When a railway enters a new, undeveloped and extensive territory, years must elapse during which it must provide transportation facilities while as yet the volume of as can be learned, no other immetraffic is insufficient to procure an adequate return upon the capital invested. Not until the development of the country is well advanced can it hope for the enterprise to before funeral arrangements are become profitable. This province has had some exper- takers. The late Mr. McIntyre ience with the operation of a colonization and the task of developing the areas served.

If the north country is to be still in a wholly undeveloped state when the P.G.E. is extended into it, is it not obvious that profitable returns will be deferred, and that afternoon. large financial outlays will have to be made, during the The inquest is being conducted period, more or less prolonged, that will be required to by Coroner Norman A. Watt and build up a volume of traffic there? On the other hand, if jurors are Jack Keefe, William the territory is already largely developed, the P.G.E. will have a considerable volume of traffic ready to hand. It McIlmoyl. will have the only route capable of giving direct, speedy all-rail transportion between that territory and the chief centres of trade, commerce and shipping in this province.

If the P.G.E. goes in first and builds up a population and important interests there, that population and those way. interests will not submit to being deprived of any other railway outlet which they think will be of benefit to them. Nor will it be possible to prevent them from getting it. Both outlets are certain to come, sooner or later. The only question is which railway is to do the pioneer work.

FTER all, there's no place like British Columbia in which to work and live and play! Here, there are no long "off seasons" to cut down a man's working time. Our temperate climate keeps a man fit ... enables him to produce more... earn more.

The producers' average weekly wage in British Columbia is $28.39...49% higher than the rest of Canada. In 1926 seventeen industries increased weekly wages by $12.95! Actually in ten years our annual payroll has grown from 78 million dollars to 175 million dollars . . . the greatest advance by far of any Province during that period. This, of course, does not include agricultural workers, professionals, clerks and others. British Columbia's gross payroll is estimated at 210 million dollars!

Life is more enjoyable . . . we have more time to enjoy the year-round pleasures and recreations at our doors, while our general standard of living is very much higher.

Taxation during the last four years has been reduced by two and a half million dollars . . . concrete proof of our province's sound financial condition.

Construction, that outward evidence of the faith we have in our province, has played a large part in the wage situation. In ten years British Columbia's construction activity has gone up ten times. In 1916 it involved only $2,860,000 . . . for 10 months in 1927 it amounted to $27,277,000!

This activity has an immediate effect on current conditions. Cash funds are disbursed for materials, employment is good . . . wages fairly steady . . . money in circulation.

It increases the capital investment in our Province. And there can be no surer indication of future progress than when producing machinery increases . . . a sign of growing markets . . . a sign that British Columbia products are winning a place in the markets of the world.
