PIG RETURNED WITH A SATISFIED SMILE

Roving Hogs Raid Supper Supplies of Local Campers at Tugwell
With Provoking Results

"One of the pigs came back and looked on with a satisfied smile." That is what was told of a beach porker on Tugwell Island after a party of picnickers had lost all the best part of their lunch and were only just in time to save the bread and butter basket from a marauding band of pigs.

R. E. Benson, the well known and genial local photographer, had taken Mrs. Benson and party to the island in the Poinsetta, had partaken of the mid-day meal and safely stowed the fruits and salads for the evening meal on high ground beyond the reach of tides and children. Then they gave themselves up to watching big men and little children and ladies disporting themselves in the sea and even took part in some of the fun themselves.

Six o'clock and all were hungry. There was the smoke from Bank Manager Cameron's camp rising slowly and temptingly aloft; President McCaffery of the Board of Trade was presiding over the arrangements for tea-making in the midst of another group Ben Self was laying down the culinary law in the midst of a group of youths and coy maidens at another spot and naturally the Benson party turned to tea making as the natural thing to do.

Exclamations of dismay and guttural noises and half suppressed words such as are used by those who have forgotten the presence of ladies were heard by the other campers, and the phrase "pigs!" was plainly distinguishable. Then, when a sufficient time had passed to allow the injured ones to assume their usual poise, supplies were secured from the other camps and the evening passed merrily. It was during that time that the pig returned with the satisfied smile.

UNMATCHED STRENGTH OF HUGON THE MIGHTY

Hugon, the mighty, lives at the crest of a towering mountain in the north woods. He believes the land to be his; it was his father's and he glories in his superb strength.

Hugon is the strongest man in the region. So mighty is he that his happiness in life is his unmatched strength and the wonderful self-confidence it creates. But one thing intrudes upon his joy. It is a vague feeling that a greater power than his set the eternal hills upon their base and chiseled the ravines with the keen blade of gentle rain.

Hugon's interest in other things comes with the Girl to the settlement from an Eastern school.

Gabriel, a bright-spirited lad, loves Marie after a fashion, and shows his love by giving her each day the largest fish he has lured from the rushing river.

The plot centres around these at the Empress Theatre tonight.

Miss Gladys Derry of McRae Bros. was a passenger for the south on the Grand Trunk steamer last night and following a short holiday in Vancouver will proceed to Victoria where she will visit for a few weeks with friends.

Cedric Mortimer returned from Terrace on the train yesterday evening where he has been spending the greater part of his summer holidays.

ALICE ARM

Rev. Mr. Rushbrook took the Sunday school scholars to Perry Bay on Friday last where an enjoyable picnic was held.

One of the employees of the Taylor Engineering Company while working on new construction at the Dolly Varden wharf, accidentally fell into the water, sustaining such injuries as to render him unconscious. He was taken to the hospital at Anyox by Mr. Rushbrook in his launch the Northern Cross.

H. A. Guess, Preston Locke, H. B. Price, J. G. Hardy and Bert Smith, mining engineers who have been looking over several properties in the Alice Arm district, left Thursday evening for Stewart.

Word has been received that work will start at once to put the Illiance pack trail in shape. A new cable crossing will be built over the Kitsault river at Alice Arm to replace the dangerous boat ferry, work to start within a few days.
