GREAT VAUDEVILLE AT THE WESTHOLME

Big Super-Program Including
Charlie Chaplin's Latest
Million Dollar Picture.

West and Fields, formerly of the Pollard Opera Company, are great. West is a comedian from the ground up. He is funny when he walks, when he talks, and when he sings. He has an able partner and the two pull off some stunts that keep the audience in good humor all the time.

The other members of the party are all interesting and especially the juvenile singers who prove popular favorites. Their work is really excellent for youngsters of that age.

Tonight there is to be an entire change of program. The same artists will take part but there will be none of the same songs or jokes.

Many Prince Rupert people have been waiting for "Sunny-side," the third of Charlie Chaplin's big million dollar pictures. It is most fortunate that it should have arrived just at a time when the vaudeville is being put on, for it insures local theatre fans a program just twice as good as they would ordinarily get. There is not a theatre in the big cities that would have as many big features as are at the Westholme tonight. Bessie Love in a five-reel feature is hardly noticed at such a time, and yet this is a good picture.

MONTAGU LOVE AND BARBARA CASTLETON

The two well known stars of filmdom, Montague Love and Barbara Castleton, will be seen tonight at the Empress Theatre in "Vengeance," a six-part picture that is a number one. It is none of your commonplace vengeance stunts such as is usual at movie shows. This is an absolutely unique, uncommon kind, but to tell about it would spoil the show.

"A Fight for Millions" is an interesting phase of the big serial and "Flames of Peril" is also as good as ever. Besides that there is a British Canadian gazette that should not be missed.

NEEDS OF PUBLIC

To the Editor:—

"Perhaps you will excuse me if I have a say in your paper as I understand you allow anyone to write without publishing their names. I have been very much interested in this closing of fruit stores and I should like to see someone better able than myself to handle it.

A lot of us thought when we voted for prohibition that there would be no more attempts to close things up, especially harmless things. Why should people not buy a bag of fruit? Is it more harmful than four per cent beer that was being sold only a little while ago? No, there is nothing against selling fruit, except a few profiteers and their friends who want to keep the business in their own hands and do not care a darnation about the needs of the public.

There have been some angry citizens lately who went to the stores and could not buy an apple or an orange because somebody with very brief authority wanted to show it. When the next election comes and it is not very far away, we, the people of this city, intend to see if we can't put in a new lot of officials that will not be under the thumb of the grocers. If we want fruit at night or on Sunday we think we ought to be able to buy it just as easily as buying pop or candies.

I think this is another attempt to squeeze up things like they tried to squeeze baseball out of town a little while not so long past.

What we need in this place is more brains and less pinhead people in charge of the affairs.

Yours truly,
ANOTHER PINHEAD.

"Resources" for this month is well up to the usual standard. There is an excellent illustrated appreciation of Lieut.-Col. Mc-Mordie, a good deal about mining and an article on the Naas valley with shorter articles dealing with other natural resources. Mr. Coyney is doing excellent work in advertising Prince Rupert and district.
