Invincible Always

Thrust and parry and the ring of steel on steel. Such scenes as this were common when the Musketeers of the King roamed the streets of Paris. Days when every man placed his faith in his glittering sword and his lady's favour. Athos, Porthos and Aramis . . . one for all and all for one . . . invincible then as always.

CANADIANS ON HOCKEY TEAM AT CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, England, Jan. 21. —Two Canadians and three graduates of United States colleges have been chosen for the Cambridge University ice hockey team.

The Canadians are G. Graham (Trinity), who played at Queens College, Kingston, and W. G. Speechley (St. John's), former Alberta University goal-guard, whose work in the cage saved the Oxford game last year.

The Cambridge captain is Cecil Wylde (Caius College), who won his letter at Harvard two years ago and was a member of the British Olympic six. Another veteran of last year's campaign is D. Graham (Jesus College) of Philadelphia, former Yale freshman player and captain of a championship Eli water-polo team.

Much is expected of John Watts (Trinity) of Morristown, N. J. Watts is a former captain of hockey at St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., an institution famous for its puck artists, although he is more well known as a Harvard oarsman.

Most prominent among the three Swiss and two Englishmen who complete the list is the young Earl of Lincoln. The young lord is not only one of the few good true English hockey players, but is a well-known cricketer as well.

MORMON GIRLS AS ATHLETES

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 21.—More women students than men participate in athletics at Brigham Young University. This is despite the fact that the institution has men's teams entered in several sports in the Rocky Mountain conference, and the women students engage almost exclusively in intramural contests.

The women's sports include hockey, in which some 150 of them are contestants during the fall months, tennis, fencing, horseback riding and archery, besides half a dozen other branches of athletics.

Organized under Miss Wilma Jeppson, director of women's athletics, the Brigham Young girls have formed a women's athletic association, with hundreds of girls participating in 11 popular sports, each under a leader of its own. With athletic activities rivalling social pursuits for popularity, bloomers and middies have almost become the school costume for the girl students.

MILLIONAIRE IS INSULTED

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—Contending that he and Harry Holmes, his manager, had both been insulted by the sporting public of Toronto, "Teddy" Oke, millionaire sportsman and owner of the Toronto Millionaires of the Canadian Professional Hockey league, Monday announced that he was through with all sport in Toronto except the Parkdale Ladies' Athletic Club."

"Harry Holmes and myself have both been insulted by the Toronto sporting public—and we do not intend to be insulted any longer than we can help," he said. "In my opinion, Toronto is the 'smallest' big town on the American continent."

The insult, according to Oke, came when the public refused to attend Canadian professional hockey games in this city. "I spent money freely for the good of sport in Toronto and yet I was deserted by the fans when I put my pro hockey team in here and tried to give them good hockey," he said "and if I can get permision I am going to withdraw my team from Toronto and play the rest of the schedule out on the road. I have already applied for permission for the move."

The flyweight fight between Frenchy Belanger, Toronto, and Izzy Schwartz, New York, has been called off until Feb. 8, because of an injury to Belanger's spine.
