DALLAS, Texas, May 27.—The people of Texas opened wide their arms Saturday to extend a traditional southern welcome to the annual international convention. In its beautiful early summer dress of green, the Texas State Fair park beckoned to the thousands of visitors who are holding their meetings and most of their entertainment affairs in the park buildings. Special trains, automobiles and airplanes brought the delegations, some of which have been en route for weeks, and the international house-warming for which the Texas Rotarians have been planning for months is
