Car Slips Here Step in Development.

The building of a ferry slip at this point marks another step in the march of progress. The development of this port is the great thing we have to look to for the permanent upbuilding of the city. It, combined with the fishing industry, will be the staples. Other industries will be largely subsidiary.

Car ferry services are becoming one of the popular methods of delivering freight. In Victoria and Vancouver and at other points in southern British Columbia car lots of freight are dropped at the points where needed and shipments picked up.

Discussing this method of handling traffic, Captain Troup of the C. P. R. Coast Service said recently that it was foolish to think of building railways to all coast points when they could be served just as well with car barges.

Importance of Banks In Encouraging Trade.

The condition in Siberia draws attention to the value of a sound currency and the value of banks in foreign commerce as well as in local trade. Banks are the media through which foreign credits are arranged and payment made for goods imported or exported. By means of the banks a system of barter is possible, different from the old in that it is rather a barter between countries than between persons.

Without the banks trade with foreign countries is difficult. With a bank at Vladivostok, for instance, and with a stable Siberian currency behind it, trade would be possible at once. Siberia wants our goods, we are prepared to sell, but there is no medium of exchange by which that trading can be brought about. Either Great Britain or the United States might establish a bank there, or a joint bank of the Allied and Associated Powers would answer the purpose, as a dependable institution through which this country could trade.

Why Russian Currency Useless.

The Russian currency is inferior because there is too much of it, because it has no gold backing, and because it is valueless outside the country in which it is made. Paper money was issued by the Romanoffs, by the Kerensky Government and by the Bolsheviks, and the Kolchak administration, the total amounting to something like $100,000,000,000 and besides that there is a large amount of forged currency. Governments have attempted to pay their bills by printing more notes. That cannot go on indefinitely.

New Officials For the City.

Three officials were appointed last night to the city hall staff and all three are competent men. Two were already in the employ of the city and they had earned the right of promotion. The third man is a returned soldier who has been wounded overseas. All the appointments should be popular ones and doubtless the city will be well served.

GROUNDS SMALL FOR FLYING

Exhibition Directors Unable to Secure Aeroplane—Symphony Orchestra and Pierrots to Perform.

Arrangements had been made with the Aero Club to stage a series of flights here during exhibition week, when it was found that the Athletic grounds here were not big enough to allow ample space for rising and alighting. Consultation with the air-men in town confirmed the directors in the view that nothing can be done this year in providing in that direction. The only hope of securing flights here now is to get someone to come with a hydroplane.

The exhibition directors look for by far the best exhibit they have yet had. There will be plenty of music, the local symphony orchestra, which has been much strengthened of late, being one of the musical organizations engaged for the occasion. There will also be a band of pierrots who will give entertainments. These will be returned men and something unusually good is looked for.

The directors are finding it difficult to secure outside attractions and it is possible that this part of the fair will have to be omitted.
