"If Adam had walked about the Garden of Eden with his hands in his pockets we should never have heard of him, similarly if we wish to be heard we must take our hands out of our pockets and go to work to gather the fruits that rightly belong to us and which have been forbidden us by the railway managements and by unsympathetic governments. It is a source of great satisfaction throughout the Peace River country to note that Prince Rupert is going about this work so splendidly through the formation of Prince Rupert-Peace River Outlet Association. This portion of Canada heartily appreciates your efforts and will do everything possible to co-operate to the end that the north country, both coast and prairie, may be linked at an early date by rails to provide our most direct outlet to tidewater. My newspapers will appreciate any and every opportunity to give fullest publicity to endeavors."

M. P. McCaffery Tells of Visit to Site on Ecstal! and Information Received

At the dinner last night to set in motion the campaign for the Peace River outlet. M. P. McCaffery spoke optimistically of the work being done hy said he had just visited Big Falls on the Ecstall River and he found a little village already there and he was told they were about to start cutting a right of way 100 feet wide for the power line to connect with Prince Rupert. On this job 250 men would be employed. Mr. McCaffery also said that he was told there that next year it was planned to spend a million and a half dollars and, they planned to have the work completed by the end of next summer. He knew that the present ponulation of Prince Rupert could not pay the interest on that million and a half dollars so he felt sure something was going to be done to increase it.

One of the most representative and enthusiastic gatherings ever held in Prince Rupert was that which after the banquet last night at the Commodore Cafe heard a number of brief addresses dealing with the question of the connection with the Peace River country by rail. The room was packed, close to 150 people sitting down to a fine repast, and numbers being turned away owing to lack of accommodation.
