Minister of Fisheries is Expected Here Next Week on a Departmental Visit

Many Fisheries and Other Matters will be Discussed with Him; Question of Shipyard Work Continuing may be Taken Up, if Not Settled before His Arrival in City

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received word to effect that Hon. C. C. Ballantyne will visit Prince Rupert on about August 20. As he is Minister of Fisheries, his visit is of great importance to the greatest fishing port on the Pacific coast.

Arrangements will be made for the minister to meet the Board of Trade and discuss fisheries and other matters. As a member of the Dominion Government, other than fisheries matters may be taken up with him. Anyone having suggestions in regard to subjects which vitally affect the port or district will do well to communicate with the secretary of the Board of Trade in connection therewith.

Among the matters that will be discussed with the minister will be the cannery monopoly which at present exists, the restrictions against the use of gas boats in the salmon fisheries on the coast, and the restriction of trap and seine licenses to British subjects.

Mr. Ballantyne was intimately connected with the awarding of the contracts for shipbuilding at this port and should the work have commenced by the time he arrives that matter will be the most important one with which he will be asked to deal.

CHINAMAN IS FINED $50.50

Chow Long Had Four Bottles Under His Clothes When Leaving Slip.

In the police court this morning before Magistrate McMorris Chow Long, a Chinaman, was fined $50.50 for having liquor in his possession. On Saturday afternoon P. C. Adams arrested the man as he was leaving the G. T. P. boat.

To Mr. Adams' eye the Chinaman looked decidedly too fat and he made investigations which led to the discovery of four bottles of G. & W. rye concealed next his skin just in the small of his back. The inside of the back of his coat was lined for the purpose of carrying bottles and it is quite certain that the man was no amateur at the game.

The police have been watching for this sort of thing and when one of the ship's crew came ashore and seemed to signal to someone on the boat that the coast was clear, P. C. Adams knew how to keep out of sight, but acted quickly when the Chinaman approached his hiding place.

There was also a case of drunkenness and the guilty one was fined the customary ten dollars.

GOVERNMENT ACTION IS BADLY NEEDED REGARDING SHIPYARD

For several weeks the shipbuilding yard has been tied up tight as a result of a disagreement between the members of the shipbuilding company. The men who were employed there have been thrown out of their jobs without any fault of theirs and the whole works are at a standstill.

The contracts to build ships were let to the company by the Government and the Government has the right to step in at any time and take over the work. It seems as if this is the time for the Government to act. They might notify the principals in the concern that if work does not start within one week the contracts will be annulled and the work continued by the Government direct.

The citizens here have been very patient. They have taken no action toward drawing the attention of the Government to the condition which exists. There is a limit to their patience, however, and we suggest that the public bodies of the city should now interest themselves in the matter. The ships are being built for the people and surely the people have some say as to how the work shall proceed.

LOCALS HAVE GREAT TIME ANYOX VISIT

Large Party Accompanies the Ball Team to Smelter Town and Enjoy Visit.

Everyone who accompanied the baseball excursion to Anyox over the week end pronounced the outing to be the best ever held out of Prince Rupert. Particularly was this due to the large number of excursionists, the fine weather and the courtesy of the boat officials. The party landed shortly after eight and the whole morning was spent in sight seeing, with luncheon aboard the boat at noon. The smelter was visited by nearly all and a large number of the more energetic members climbed to the mine and to the crusher and watched operations.

The boys who were in the party were the real live enthusiasts and when in Anyox they kept the jitney driver running to and from the mine. They certainly enjoyed the thrill of travelling over the loose planks on the narrow roadway at break neck speed. A favorite resort with the youths was the ice cream counter in the hotel.

Left Behind.

At the ball game all the fans gathered to support their team and they did not lag in rooting facilities. They boosted well and all Anyox turned out to bid the jovial party farewell. So engaged were some of the Anyox visitors on board the "Rupert" that they did not go ashore until after the boat started to move.

Two ladies were put off just in time, but James McAleenan did not come up on deck quickly enough, hence he is in Prince Rupert today. Another sad incident was that Fred Joudry was left standing on the dock feeling waving his hand to his departing friends. He had stayed too long enjoying the beauties of the smelter city gardens.

All the trip down Portland Canal was very pleasant and many of the pleasure seekers gathered on the top deck to watch a game of shuffle board. The most thrilling game played was between Mrs. Self and Dravis against Ben Self and Clementson. Interest ran high and the onlookers urged on both husband and wife who were pitted against each other at the same end. By this time Ben had quite got over the roasting which he had received at the ball game about being a fat man.

Wild Rush.

There was a wild rush for the saloon when the bugle sounded for dinner, but there were too many to be accommodated at one sitting so a few had to remain on top until the others had satisfied that large appetite which had been developed from the salt sea air.

As the Prince Rupert came into the harbor all gathered on deck and told those who remained in town with lusty voices just how the ball game was won. There were three cheers for the ever popular Captain McKenzie and for the stewards who had many discomforts to put up with at the behest of the holiday makers.

The Trippers.

A partial list of those who made the trip apart from the ball players were: Thos. McMeekin, W. D. Vance, A. Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fuller, Alex. Finnie, W. Joy, David Cavalier, Misses J. and L. Ross, Sidney Bazzett-Jones, Howard and Douglas Frizzell, George, Willie and Alec Mitchell, Adolph Francis, Raymond Scherk, Eva Esson, Inez Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Bazzett-Jones, Sr., J. W. McAuley, A. McQueen, Jas. Mitchell, F. Moersch, Nora Kenney, Chris Stephen, Murray Stephen, Sidney Butters, George Shaw, Willie Blyth, Harry and Edwin Smart, G. F. Johnstone, Fred Joudry, Clarice Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roerig, Mrs. Clementson, Tommy Smith, Fred Henning, Willie Martin, George Roberts and Weston Coyney.

CHILDREN ARE BADLY BURNED NEAR CLAXTON

Girl Dies as Result of Injuries and Boy in Serious Condition.

On Saturday afternoon there was a very sad burning accident up the river when a little Indian girl was burnt to death and a little boy left with very little hope of recovery. The accident occurred near Claxton and the victims were rushed to the hospital at Port Essington.

A distillate stove exploded when the youngsters were standing near and the burning contents of the whole thing spread over the two children.

In the absence of Dr. Large of the hospital there the two nurses, Misses Fraser and Colwell did their utmost for the children, but in spite of all their efforts the little girl, after apparently having recovered somewhat when the dressings were applied, died at four o'clock on Sunday morning. Further news of the little boy, who was also terribly scorched, has not been received today.

ARRESTED FOR PLAYING BLACKJACK

Chas. Gustafson Gathered in by Police and Being Tried This Morning.

Yesterday evening, shortly after the arrival of the Grand Trunk steamer from Anyox, a man commended to Chief Vickers that he lost his money while gambling in a way from the Smelter town. He told the chief that he had been played by a man while playing blackjack. This was enough for the chief who immediately started search and the man was later apprehended up town, with the aid of the foreigner who had lost money.

When searched Chas. Gustafson had $313 and some odd money. His person and the foreigner had made the complaint and his pay roll of $280 and nothing went.

After marked cards were found some of the officials and this was a very serious charge. His arrest Gustafson was turned over to the provincial police authorities and came up for trial before Magistrate McMullin in the provincial police court this morning.
