

Man in the Moon

It's easy to drive a car
And easy to let it stop.
But it's hard to park it by the curb
To satisfy the cop.
To joy-ride round the town
Off causes lots of fun
But one thing motorists must not do
Is to let the motor run.
And if you leave the bus
While you go in to shop
Be sure it's miles from the corner curb
Or again you'll meet the cop.

There are lots of jokes on the Ford car. A book of Ford jokes has been published, but not many people have tried telling stories about the innocent looking Chevrolet. Syd Johnston has one of the vintage of the early twenties and he tells a story which he swears is true but nobody but those who know Syd well believes it.
It seems that Syd and his stockbroking brother were having a game of badminton at the Anglican Church. It was dark when they came out so they just twisted the tail of the old Chev and away they went home to the far end of Graham Avenue in Westview. On arrival they found that the gas tank was missing. They went back to search for it and discovered that it had fallen off outside the Anglican Church and that they had driven all the way to Westview without any tank.

I've driven a car without body
Whose only seat was a plank
But it takes a Chev a record to make
By running without any tank.

Ten Years Ago

May 10, 1919
Lieut. Col. C. W. Peck, V. C., D. S. O. will be home from the front tomorrow afternoon with members of his command, the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish The reception in their honor will be a memorable event in Prince Rupert's history. Elaborate preparations are being made.

J. L. Mullen, president of the Prince Rupert Dry Dock & Engineering Co., expresses disappointment at the failure of the people of Prince Rupert to build houses for those who will be employed on ship construction here.

A reading lamp was presented by the St. Andrew's Society last night to Sam Massey, who has returned from the War, and his bride.
