Fish Hatcheries And Their Value.

There is a discussion going on as to whether fish hatcheries are of any value. The Fraser River which has hatcheries has ceased to become an important factor in the salmon fisheries business. The Skeena on the other hand has produced as much fish this year as ever.

F. E. Burke, manager for the Wallace Fisheries, claims that since the hatchery at Stuart Lake went out of business the runs on the Skeena have increased. This is denied by Chief Inspector Cunningham of New Westminster, who says that the big run is the result of the work of the hatchery while it was in operation. He says that hatcheries are a decided benefit to the fishing interests.

Alice Arm is Coming to Fore.

Reports from Alice Arm published on Saturday show that the Alice Arm mining district promises to be among the rich mining camps of the north British Columbia coast. There are a number of valuable mines already getting out ore, and now comes news of a rich gold strike.

The Dolly Varden mine is commencing to ship ore and it should not take very long for the company to sell enough to pay for the mine and railway combined. The presence of a number of American capitalists in the district is giving a flip to the mining industry as a good many claims have been bonded for large sums.

Prospector Has at Last Won Out.

Prospectors who have gone in to the Portland Canal mountains and have staked good prospects have had to wait a long time for their returns, but they have now come. Anything that carries good ore can be sold if it is anywhere near transportation.

The richness of that district would never have been known had it not been for the persistent work of the prospectors. They are a hardy lot of men who invest their time and strength on futures. They take many a gamble and sometimes they win. Everyone will be glad to know that the prospectors who have hung on to their claims are now able to cash in on them.

Dictatorship Again Established in Hungary.

There has been a dictatorship in Hungary for several months past. Bela Kun was a Bolshevik dictator. He professed liberal principles but conditions made it impossible for him to practise them. He ruled just like other rulers. His will was practically absolute law.

Now Bela Kun has gone into exile and Archduke Joseph has taken his place. He will have to be a dictator for some time to come, else he will never bring order out of the present chaos. Rule by the people is impossible unless the people are capable of ruling intelligently. They do not seem to be able to do it intelligently in Hungary and the result is anarchy, or dictatorship.

Capacity for government is not a thing that a nation can fall into suddenly. It has to be learned. We have had a large measure of self government for many years yet we make many mistakes as everybody knows. We have a lot to learn yet before we can evolve anything like a real democracy.

If we find self government difficult who have had a good deal of training along those lines, how must those who have not had such training blunder and stumble and bring about confusion when they are suddenly given the right which we have slowly won and not yet learned to use.
