British Parliament Which Opens Tuesday Likely to Prove Momentous One in History of Labor Movement

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Parliament meets on Tuesday for a momentous session. In the foreign and domestic fields alike the discussions will be of the highest consequence. Matters to pass through the crucible of debate include the conversations between Premier Macdonald and President Hoover and later between Macdonald and Premier King of Canada; the mission to Canada by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas and its concrete results; the liberal new treaty with Egypt and the new agreement with Soviet Russia.

In the domestic field there is the ever present subject of unemployment in regard to which there is bound to be much discussion with possible criticism within the Labor party. The growing cost of social services is likely to draw the heavy batteries of the opposition.

SLUMP IN VANCOUVER

Heavy Losses in Marginal Trading As Brokers Attempt to Protect Themselves

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26.—There were heavy losses of paper profits in marginal trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon, prices being forced down even further as brokers attempted to protect themselves at any cost. Liquidation of oil stocks was particularly heavy while mining issues held up better under the strain.

The situation generally is very unsettled and the bear movement may continue for a time.

CEDAR POLE OUTPUT BIG

Hanson Timber & Lumber Co. Has Production Now Safely Boomed at Nash and Cedarvale

All the cedar poles taken out in extensive operations during the past summer on the upper reaches of the Skeena and Kispiox Rivers have now been safely gathered at the booming grounds of the Hanson Lumber and Timber Co. at Nash and Cedarvale and there is at present much activity in the two yards as loading proceeds for the east.

The main drive of poles this year was a great success, no more than two hundred pieces going under the booms and most of these being salvaged further down the Skeena River.

The output of cedar poles and piling this year was in excess of any previous season and there is an excellent market for them. Most of the shipments are being made to the United States at a rate of six or seven carloads daily.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26. — During a dense fog the Princess Marguerite, bound from Seattle to Vancouver, and the Princess Louise, from Vancouver to Victoria, collided at 4 o'clock this morning of Kellett Bluff, San Juan Island.

The vessels were proceeding dead slow at the time of the impact and the passengers and crew were uninjured. There was no excitement on board and the vessels after a brief examination to satisfy the skippers that all was safe proceeded to their destinations, arriving practically on time

The Louise is being docked and it is expected the repairs will be completed in three days.

HERRING ARRIVE AND GIVEN FREE AT PORT ALBERNI

PORT ALBERNI, Oct. 26:—The herring season is now in full swing, much to the delight of the small boys of the town. During the week-ends it has been the custom for years for the various seine boats to arrive in town with half a ton or so of herring, and anyone desiring these fish may take their own containers to the wharf and carry away free and gratis as many fish as he desires.

Some householders, however, are unable to get to the wharf on Saturday morning so the boys take advantage of the situation and collect the fish in pails and sacks and sell it to the housewives, some deriving many dollars over the week-end.

Grain Shipments Are Away Down

Decline of Nearly 82,000,000 Bushels Compared With Last Year

OTTAWA, Oct. 26:—Total shipments of grain from the ports of Vancouver, Montreal and Quebec from the first of the year to October 18 show a decline of nearly eighty million bushels compared with the corresponding period of last year. This year Montreal's export amounted to just under 77,500,000 bushels. Vancouver is down to 2,225,000 bushels.

London to Tokio By Air Service Being Planned

VICTORIA, Oct. 26:—Europe and the Orient will soon be brought into close contact by a vast network of airways that will eventually give express aerial service for passengers and mails between London and Tokio.

Siam, one of the most progressive countries of the east, is putting into operation in the immediate future a government air-mail service between Bangkok and Rangoon, which will later be extended to Hanoi, French Indo-China, it was announced by Herman F. Scholtz, manager of the International Engineering Company, who reached here by the liner President Jefferson from the Far East.

"The Siamese government is starting up air lines to connect with the Imperial Airways service, which now operates between London and Karachi, India, and which will shortly be extended to Rangoon in Burma," said Mr. Scholtz.

Experiments Proceeding With View To Eliminating Discoloration of Halibut

The local halibut boats Pair of Jacks, Takla and Gibson, which were recently treated by members of the staff of the Prince Rupert fisheries experimental station with a view to clearing up one or two points which must enter into any practical method for eliminating discoloration of fish while on the way from the banks to port, have returned to port. From data so far gathered and which will be secured from further bacteriological examinations of the fish from these vessels, a method for the complete elimination of discoloration, it is expected, will be perfected.

The special treatment consisted of sterilizing the holds of the boats and the ice with which they were supplied by a chemical process which is stated to be entirely harmless.

Success of the experiment would have far reaching effect on the fishing industry, as it would permit of halibut being landed from the boats perfectly white and free of yellowish discoloration which affects most fish under ordinary methods. The benefit would be invaluable not only to fishermen and fish handlers, but to the ultimate consumer.

OLD PAPER IN A SHACK ON Q. C. IDS.

Number of Interesting Occurences Recorded in Issue of Daily News For April, 1913

When cruising down the east coast of Moresby Island recently, the Skidegate correspondent of the Daily News found a copy of the Daily News in a deserted cabin bearing the date April 15, 1913. Curiously enough a double column headline in the paper was "Peace River Country Awaits the Coming of the Railway." The correspondent suggests that this indicates the News was on the job in the interests of Prince Rupert as much at least 16 years ago.

The same paper says that Section Two improvements will be shortly under way, the city council having reported in favor of awarding contracts for grading and planking streets.

T. D. Pattullo was mayor of the city and M. P. McCaffery an alderman. Another alderman was L. Bullock-Webster, who now conducts a dramatic school at Victoria.

Excavation tenders were opened for work on Market Square.

A story about a local resident who is here today, in the same number follows:

"Constable Pat Phillipson had a busy and somewhat exciting time among the Indians of the Naas last week. About 10 days ago he went to a settlement at Ainkida where Charles Alexander and his wife Cecilia have been running a whiskey still for the past two years. It was about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when he approached the camp where he found Alexander and his wife and four other women all drunk. All were in an ugly mood and one of the women came at him with an axe. While Pat is far from what could be called a coward, he considered discretion the better part of valor and quietly withdrew. Crossing the river in his canoe he waited for about three hours until the effect of the liquor on the Indians had worn off and they were more amenable to reason. Recrossing the river, he succeeded in arresting the entire gang. On the premises was found the "still," "worm" and other features of an illicit booze producing camp. Alexander and his principals were taken to Port Simpson, where they were tried before Dr. Large on Friday and each sentenced to six months in the penitentiary.

"During his recent visit to the Naas Constable Phillipson also arrested a Japanese named F. Fussimie on a charge of supplying liquor to an Indian woman Mrs. Benson. The case was heard at Kincolith on Tuesday, April 8th, before Magistrate Collison and Dr. McDonald. The accused was fined $150 and costs. Mrs. Benson was also fined $25 and $5 costs for having liquor in her possession."

STOLE BOTTLE MILK

Warren Scott was fined $10, with option of seven days' imprisonment by Magistrate McClymont in city police court this morning for having stolen a bottle of milk from a milk wagon.

Capt. J. B. Colthurst arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning from Vancouver Island, being on his way to Terrace.

Many readers of The Daily News are looking forward to the commencement of the new serial on Monday. It is "Miss Brown of X. Y. O.," by E. Phillips Oppenheim.

The previous story by Landon was so much appreciated that many readers asked for another. It begins in the next number of this paper and will run along to somewhere about Christmas time, all depending on the amount of Christmas advertising carried. It is expected that this story will be appreciated just as much as the previous one.
