WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 10. -One factor apparently overlooked thus far in the international ubbub over further naval reductions and limitations is the German navy. It does not amount to much in size, due to severe restrictions of the treaty that ended the war. But German mechanical ingenuity has found a way, within those restrictions, to produce a class of hybrid fighting ships that can conceivably be difficult to fit into any accepted category for limitation pur-

The new German ships, limited to 10,000 tons displacement, are the same size as the 10,000-ton post-Washington treaty cruisers of England, the United States, Japan, France and Italy. , Such vessels! were the chief bone of contention in the fruitless three-power naval conference sponsored by President
