Everything Spells Increased Prosperity.

There are all sorts of rumors of possible developments afoot. What with the mines commencing to ship ore, in the neighboring towns of Stewart and Alice Arm, with the fisheries on the Skeena being the biggest in years, with the tourist business being larger than ever before, with the freight shipments from this port exceeding everything in the past and with the general air of prosperity and progress in and around the city and the confidence outsiders feel in the port, there is every reason to feel optimistic.

Never a visitor comes to the city now but that he is enthused with the prospects. Major Cowper Young expressed himself along these lines a day or two ago and as an earnest of his faith ordered machinery for his new mill here.

Building operations in the city have been rather brisk but there is much more to be done before the snow flies. As soon as the plans have been approved and everything is ready, there are thirty soldiers' houses to be erected, there is the Morse Creek bridge to be built, and there are many other houses and other improvements to be started and carried through without delay. Everything speaks of increased business.

New York Has Capped Climax.

The limit has been reached in the matter of strikes. It was bad enough for the people of New York to have their transportation interfered with, their food supplies curtailed and many of the other necessities of life stopped or the supply impeded. The people were willing to put up with that for a short time, but now there is more trouble fallen on the stricken community. The chorus girls have organized themselves into a union and gone on strike.

Salvation Army Worthy of Support.

The Salvation Army is making a drive for funds. This institution has done much to help the boys who went to France and Flanders and all who have come within the scope of its activities speak well of it. It is out to serve humanity. People who see and hear the speakers on the street corners and who listen to the music often do not realize the work that is done which is not seen. We take pleasure in commending the activities of the Salvation Army and suggesting that it receive such support as citizens feel they are able to give.

High Cost of Living Under Consideration.

For several years the high cost of living has been a subject of conversation, of newspaper articles and of political resolutions. It is alleged to have caused strikes and to have embittered the working people against those who are considered by them to be more fortunate. And yet the increases have gone on and are still going on. We look in vain for someone to help us. The American Eagle is beating its wings in expostulation and showing its talons occasionally, but with no visible result. The British lion roars and the prices still go up. Our beaver works and expostulates with a flap of its tail on the still waters of public opinion. It is a bold man who offers to prophesy when the limit will be reached. The only thing we know is that somewhere, perhaps far beyond the clouds, there is an apex, and we cannot climb forever. The dangerous descent must follow.
