Sport
Yesterday afternoon all the players of the Ocean Falls baseball team were out in front of the Prince Rupert Hotel warming up before the game. They came out stripped for action shortly after lunch and they played there until nearly time to go to the grounds. A number of people gathered to watch the strangers work out and amongst the admirers were many of the members of the junior league here.

In the recent tennis championship tournament held at Wimbledon the crowd watched with breathless amazement the performance of a young French woman—little more than a school girl. It was a superb display and she literally beat one of the finest English women champions. With such a masterly exhibition the visitor received a great ovation when the match was won. Mme. Lenglen is a short, dark, vivacious slip of a girl with big expressive eyes, and she carries herself with a shy diffidence rather new for a woman of champion rank. For some years she has only played men on continental courts, there being no women strong enough abroad to test her skill. Mrs. Larcombe, one of the most hard fighting and experienced of English women, was her opponent, and went down to sensational defeat before her. The French girl seemed to have every stroke at her command. Her powers of placing were wonderful, almost masculine in effectiveness. She showed complete control of overhead work, and executed even the back-hand smash with certainty and elegance. She was the attraction at the tournament.

Harry Day pitched an excellent game of ball yesterday afternoon and the visitors only got five hits during the nine innings. He fanned 17 altogether. If he gets a doubtful decision he makes up for it in the next throw. He does not stop to talk the umpire into seeing a thing the right way but with a smile turns round and goes at it again. When he has finished he walks from the box to the bench without any fuss or show.

Clementson played his usual brilliant game yesterday afternoon, getting a three-bagger on a ball knocked over at the end of right field. He fielded one wonderful fly which was almost impossible to get under. He had to run a long distance, but he got there and when he did, held the ball. The crowd cheered lustily.

Burdon, the pitcher of the Ocean Falls baseball team, did fine work in the first innings of the game yesterday afternoon. He dropped away in the seventh and the Rupert batters all began to get hits. Burdon himself was batting very high and up to the ninth had got hits every time he came up to bat.

At the soccer game last evening there was too much crabbng and not enough football by both teams. The bitter personalities, too, of some of the fans were rather mean and spoilt the game for those who like to play football for what it is worth and not with the idea of getting the other fellow.

Play the football referee's whistle at all times. If any particular side seems to get the best decisions it is up to the other to show that the game can be won without a referee. This can be done by showing superiority over the other side by playing rings around them and not letting them come close enough to get in the dirty work which the referee does not seem to wish to see.

Mrs. Forbes Makes Butter

She calls it Economy Butter, and it is well named, considering the quantity she gets, and the low cost of the extra butter.
To half a pound of butter add one SMALL tin of Pacific Milk, in which has been dissolved a small pinch of baking soda.
Whip 'till the butter has all been taken up and allow to set gradually in a cool place.
It makes almost a pound of butter—good butter, too.
Many will thank Mrs. Forbes for her kindness, as we do.
