

Man in the Moon

There is a lack of culture among the farmers. Not one in a thousand plays the saxophone.

No house is big enough to contain two geniuses at one time especially if they have to breakfast together.

Love makes the world go round but it is useless if it is parked at the side of the highway.

The way to stop conversation in Prince Rupert would be to forbid the use of the personal pronoun "I."

When a local young lady remarked that she was going on a sleighing party during the recent snow, a friend wanted to know who she was going to slay.

"With whom was your wife quarrelling last night?"

"Oh—she was scolding the dog."

"Poor beast—I heard her threaten to take the front door key away from him."

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

April 10, 1919

The Great War Veteran's Association is starting a drive for funds for a building. A monster raffle is now being held.

Work was started yesterday on the new boarding house building at the dry dock. The structure will measure 36 by 160 feet and will contain fifty rooms in addition to a large dining room.

Football is to be revived in Prince Rupert this summer after having been allowed to drop during the war years, when most the best players were overseas.

A POSER

Tommy was always eager for knowledge, and one day, while walking in the park with his father he asked the name of a tree.

"That's an elm tree," his father told him.

"Why do they call it an elm?"

"Oh, why do they call you Tommy?" asked his father impatiently.

"I don't know—why do they call me 'Tommy,' father?"—Children's Magazine.
