USEFUL PUBLICATIONS

A very beautiful folder "British Columbia, Playground for the World," has been issued by the Provincial Government through the Bureau of Information, which comes under the department of Hon. W. C. Shelly, min-filled by despatches telling of this ister of finance. The pictures are excellent and deal and that prospect being developed in connection with the northern with the really scenic points and not with the cities.

In such a publication, the scope of which is naturally the general public, as a rule, are restricted, the omission of the Skeena River gorge is not prone to just pass this up as so at the Aeropolis Stadium before what to be wondered at because the photographer has not yet done justice to this picturesque section. Later when the opinions of an outsider should be highway is built doubtless we shall come in for more at- given a permanent place in the tention. However, Prince Rupert is not neglected in the publication.

A new edition of "Highways, Motor Camps and Stopping Places in British Columbia" rather ironically includes Prince Rupert. PRINCE RUPERT EXHIBITION

Aug. 27, 28, 29 and 30, 1929

The directors are devoting their time and energy towards making this one of the best exhibitions in the history of the association, and the thousands of visitors will be assured of four full days of real pleasure.

The directors have been fortunate enough to secure the THREE NATHS, acrobats and gymnasts, featuring one of the youngest acrobats in the world. This act is costing a considerable sum, but the members of the board feel that they are giving you something worth while.

Captain George Ash will entertain you with his marvelous feats of marksmanship and rope work. He packs shooting irons of all descriptions.

Miss Campbell with her dancing girls, and clever kiddies. will entertain you each evening, with a number of novelty acts.

Arrangements are under way for outdoor entertainment, and it is possible that we will have with us the famous Asahis baseball team of the senior City League, Vancouver, or some other equally good. There will also be baseball and football for the Indian teams.

To bring to a fitting close these four days of fun and frolic, there will be the Grand Ball on Friday evening, at which plenty of whoopee will be made.
