NEW WESTMINSTER ADANACS WON THE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF CANADA, BEATING WINDSOR ALUMNI LAST NIGHT

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 2 .- Coming from behind to win last night's game, the second and final of the series, the Adanacs, champions of British Columbia, defeated Windsor Alumnia 18 to 15 to capture the men's Canadian basketball championship.

Last night's victory gave the locals a one-point margin on the series, the total scores being 36 to 35, Windsor having won Monday's game 20 to 18.

The game last night was intensely interesting. At half time it looked as if all hope was lost, for the visitors had a sevenpoint lead on the Adanacs, 12 to 5 . By clever playing the new Canadian champions cut down the lead of the easterners to emerge at the close with just sufficient points to give them the Dominion title.
