One advantage of the radio is that more people have their watches telling correct time than formerly.

It's always interesting to read a book on child training because it gives the view of the person who has no children.

The way to cultivate optimism is to try to recall the things that worried us last year or the year before. Such mental exercise will make it clear that the things we worry about most are the things that never happen.

Emerson told about compensations. I too have noticed that the smaller the wife the more she bosses the husband.

What a grand old world this would be if it were as easy to make money as it is to make mistakes.

It must be bad to be a martyr but nothing like as bad as having to live with one.

The jury system would be all right if you could find a jury so dumb that the members had not formed an opinion in regard to the crime.

THERE'S A SPLASH... the placid waters of the crystal pool take life as the pebble disappears. First a circle, then two, then six, then twelve, as if by magic the ripples race over the surface of the pool to its furthestmost edges.

The stone that stirred the pool to life was one of your dollar bills, the pool is British Columbia... B.C. with its industries and natural resources, you, me, and everyone. The ripples are beneficial disturbances set up by your dollar... all the elements of B.C. industry responding to replace that commodity purchased by your dollar.

What is the moral of the stone in the pool? Every dollar you spend for B.C. products helps sustain B.C. labour and all its dependent sources of production and distribution. Your own prosperity is dependent on your purchasing interest in those articles manufactured for you by your fellow men and women. Every man employed earns wages, spends wages, and keeps others employed. Demand the B.C. product! It is an expression of faith in your local industries and pride in the products of your Homeland.
