IT'S AN ILL WIND

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Quite recently of fabric design characterize the in Britain there was an epidemic of flu. The result was new fashions for summer and that a great many rich people died and the inheritance tax winter resort use. This is especmounted to such an extent that Rt. Hon. Winston ially true of coats for wear with Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, was able to declare sleeveless dresses. a considerable surplus.

While in British Columbia the inheritance tax is being introduced at Palm Beach redeclared unjust and unwise, Britain is collecting four hun- claim to popularity. It is of dred million dollars from that source.

But Churchill found that there was a falling off in in- with a sprigged design. Quilted come from the tax on beer, wines and spirits. As a special in yellow stitching, it would be despatch put it, "what the country gained by death it lost especially chic worn over a yelby sobriety."

INFLUENCE OF ONE MAN

As an instance of what one man can do if he really is in earnest in carrying it out is seen in the reform of the calendar movement which was originated by Moses Cotsworth of British Columbia. He has convinced most influential people throughout the world that his calendar is the best that could be adopted and is now director of the fixed calendar bureau of the League of Nations. He predicts that the plan will be adopted within two years. It has already been approved by the assembly of the League of Nations.

The proposed calendar would divide the year into 13 months of exactly 28 days each with a year day, which would be fixed as December 29.

TOM BALLINGER

But, this recognition has come only after years of the most heart-breaking toil, and a personal and individual struggle with nature in her varying moods that has made the farmer the truly noble figure he is today.

Life on the farm has been rendered more agreeable since the introduction of electricity. This great force lights the house, the barn and the stables; runs the churns, thrashes the wheat, milks the cows and makes possible the telephone.

Electricity is the servant that never loses its temper, never resigns and never has to be discharged.

The Northern Electric Company manufactures and sells many of the adjuncts that lighten the work of farm life-cables, wires, telephones, electric ranges, electric washers, electric irons 1171/ and many other units that make possible the application of electricity.
