quiring Into Matter and Will Prosecute and no mo

EDMONTON, Dec. 41 - Inquiries are now being made by the at-P. torney general's department into 8 the question of lawbreaking throughout the province in the way of Sunday trading and other violations of the Lord's Day Act P Hon. J. F. Lymburn, attorney general, says that the whole situation is being considered with a view to seeing that the laws of the land are properly respected and obeyed.

A number of fiats have already been applied for by the chief of police in Calgary and have been 6 granted by the department, and prosecutions are to follow.

"There appears to be a growing disregard by certain sections o' the community," says the attorney general, "to the necessity of obeying the laws of the land insofar as they relate to Sunday trading The Lord's Day Act, which is a statutary law, prohibits the carrying on of ordinary, everyday occupations except in the cases of certain necessary businesses.

"Representations have been made to the department relating specifically to illegal conduct by persons holding restaurant cences, where the restaurant license is alleged to be used as a camouflage for acrrying on the business in all its branches, and we are dealing with the matter.

"Exception has also been taken." Mr. Lymburn states, "to the increasing amount of organized Sunday sport, and this matter also is receiving the attention of the department. The purpose of the department in this connection. as well as in regard to Sunday trading, is to see that the laws of the land are respected."
