

Man in the Moon

Rum runners do not run and the stuff they try to get past with is not usually rum. It's a rum business anyway.

The meek inherit the earth but they do not remain meek long after they come into their inheritance.

The Mayor of Hole-in-the-Wall reports that city lots are not selling very briskly there just now but they are doing better at Skeena City. You can get a good double corner at Skeena City today at about 38 cents and a few inside lots thrown in.

The garden flowers are getting uneasy at the long wait for spring to arrive and give them a little outing.

Jake says what he likes about spring weather is to see the marks on the backs of the ladies stockings.

Little drops of water! Little pools of slush! Make the stockings look like You'd been in a rush.

This is the time when the slaves of the ring have to do double duty at what the ancients called "spring cleaning."

The bigger the diamond, the more it looks like Woolworth.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

April 2, 1919

Twenty five thousand dollars was subscribed yesterday in the campaign for the Prince Rupert building fund. This is one-fourth of the objective.

The legislature has decided that, unless the Dolly Varden Mining Co. pays all labor claims in connection with the building of a railway, within thirty days, the property at Alred Arm will pass out of the company's hands into those of the Taylor Engineering Co.

The legislature has passed a bill extending the dower right to women as well as men.
